DAN G. REID ON STAND AS WITNESS IN STEEL PROBE

Indiana Railroad Financier is First of Defendents to Be Called in Government's Hearing.

New York, May 13.—Daniel G. Reid, the railroad financier, a director in the United States steel corporation, and member of its finance committee, was called as a witness at the resumption today of the hearing in the government suit to dissolve the corporation before Commissioner Brown. Mr. Reid is the first defendant to appear on the witness stand.

Mr. Reid was asked to testify concerning the organization of the National Steel, the American Tin Plate, the American Steel Hoop and the American Sheet Steel companies in which Mr. Reid together with Wm. H. Moore and J. H. Moore, were the dominant factors, before the concerns were taken into the so-called trust. Reid and Wm. H. Moore both became directors of the corporation upon the absorption of their companies and have been so ever since. The government contends that all four companies were themselves illegal combinations.

Declines to Tell How Much.

Mr. Reid gave his business as "chairman of the Rock Island & Pacific railroad." He said he was a stockholder of the United States Steel corporation, but declined to say how much stock he held. He told of being a stockholder in the American Tin Plate company and said he had exchanged his holdings for shares in the steel corporation.

Mr. Reid was asked to describe competitive conditions among the constituent companies of the American Tin Plate company before its organization in 1908. Judge Dickinson, of counsel for the government, read from a list about 35 of these companies and asked the witness if they were all engaged in inter-state commerce and in competition with each other.

"They were," Mr. Reid replied.

"Did you take in part of the organization of the tin plate company."

"Oh, yes."

"With whom did you consult?"

"Judge Moore. He had a reputation as an organizer. The idea was to form a company taking in some of the larger and better plants."

"But you took in others?"

"Oh, yes; those came in later."

"Were your tin plate companies engaged in any pools?"

Not in Any Pool.

"Not to my knowledge."

The witness volunteered an explanation that the tin plate makers had every year to fix the wage schedule of employes, but these meetings had nothing to do with fixing prices. Thirty-nine plants operating 200 mills were taken into the tin plate company, he said, which represented about 90 per cent. of the tin plate industry.

"So far as you know did anybody get cash for his stock?" Judge Dickinson asked.

"I don't know. They could have got cash if they wanted it. I know I got stock for mine, two for one, one share of common and one of preferred of the American Tin Plate company."

"Didn't you testify before the industrial commission that in some cases you got for your stock four times what it was worth?"

"I don't know; that was twelve or thirteen years ago."

"Suppose all these mills had been paid for in cash, what would the value have amounted to—$18,000,000?"

"I don't know."

"Dindn't $18,000,000 common and $18,000,000 stock of the American Tin Plate

WAS A MERCHANT FOR MANY YEARS

Bartholomew Dowling Dies Suddenly at His Home in New Haven.

ILL BUT ONE HOUR

Bartholomew Dowling, the well known pioneer hardware merchant at New Haven, died at 12:50 o'clock this morning at his residence. While Mr. Dowling had been in ill health for the last eight years, his death was sudden. He was apparently in his usual health and remained up with his family until 11 o'clock Sunday night. He was sick only one hour before death came.

BARTHOLOMEW DOWLING, Hardware Merchant at New Haven for Forty-two Years.

Mr. Dowling was born in county Kerry, Ireland, August 24, 1844. At the time of his death he was 67 years, 8 months and 19 days of age. At the age of 5 years he came to Fort Wayne and after residing here for eight years, moved to New Haven, where he engaged in the retail hardware business. He had followed that vocation continuously since. He was married to Miss Mary Moriarity January 9, 1878.

The deceased was a veteran of the civil war and served with company H, 20th Ohio volunteer regiment, with which he enlisted April 27, 1861. At the close of the war he received an honorable discharge. Mr. Dowling was also a charter member of St. John's Catholic church at New Haven, of St. John's church society, of St. Charles's branch, No. 339, Catholic Knights of America, and Division No. 1, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Surviving he leaves the widow and six children—Thomas, of New Haven; John, deputy clerk of Allen county; Bart. jr., James and William, of New Haven, and Miss Mae Dowling, who resides at home. One sister, Mrs. Mary Moriarity, also survives.

FIND FOUR MORE BODIES.

Halifax, N. S., May 13.—Wireless messages from the steamer Montmagny, which was dispatched from Halifax last week to search the sea for victims of the Titanic, report the recovery of four bodies. Three of these were identified as follows:

Harold Reynolds, steerage passenger; C. Smith, a steward; a Syrian girl, about 15 years old. One body, that of a sailor, was unidentified and buried at sea.

WILL THE CITY COUNCIL'S ACTION TUESDAY EVENING SAVE TO FORT WAYNE THE HISTORIC HARMER'S FORD?

1—General view of the ground at Harmer's Ford as it looks today. The site is above the Maumee river high water mark. In the immediate foreground it is proposed to erect a monument to the soldiers who lost their lives in the memorable conflict with the Indians under Little Turtle in 1790. The stretch of ground in the distance is the proposed site of an east side park. This may be lost to the city by the erection of a foundry on the site.

2—The site of Harmer's Ford at the foot of Harmer street.

3—The Maumee river. The view is looking across into Lakeside from the proposed east side park.

4—Map showing (a) the location of the proposed east side park and (b) site of proposed monument.

THE Fort Wayne Daughters of the American Revolution are worried. And so are a good many other Fort Wayne people. There seems to be plenty of reason to be worried. Summed up briefly the events which led up to the condition are as follows:

1—In the year 1790 President George Washington, in a message to congress, said that inasmuch as the efforts of the government to punish certain hostile tribes of Indians who were committing depredations against the inhabitants of the southern and western frontiers had failed, "We ought to be prepared to afford protection to those parts of the nation, and, if necessary, to punish aggressors."

2—Conditions grew worse, and President Washington authorized an expedition against the Indians along the Maumee river under General Harmer.

3—In the contest between the Indians and the troops General Harmer fought at the junction of the St. Mary's, the St. Joseph and Maumee rivers, now near the heart of the city of Fort Wayne; 183 whites were killed and 31 wounded. History says that Major Hall, instead of waiting for an agreed signal for attack by two wings of the attacking forces, permitted his men to fire upon a lone Indian on the east bank of the St. Joseph river (now Lakeside.)

REMOVES BAR TO TROLLEY MERGER

Judge Anderson Denies Petition for Temporary Injunction.

WILL SOON UNITE

Indianapolis, Ind., May 13.—Judge Anderson, in the federal court today denied the application of Mrs. Alice Norton, of Cambridge, Mass., for a temporary injunction prohibiting the consolidation of the Union Traction Company of Indiana, and the Indiana Union Traction company, thus removing the only obstacle in the way of immediate union of the two companies.

By agreement at the the case came up for a hearing the stockholders were permitted to vote on the question of consolidation, and any other necessary steps could be taken provided there was no actual execution of the agreement until the temporary injunction question was ruled on.

Al lthis had been done, the stockholders having voted in favor of consolidation and the board of directors having authorized the officers of the company to sign the articles of consolidation. Thus the decision of Judge Anderson, wiping out the order by agreement, left only the signing of the agreement and the filing of this agreement with the secretary of state to be done before the two companies operate as the consolidated Union Traction Company of Indiana.

Judge Remster, in the Marion circuit court, Saturday, having denied the application of George J. Marott and Alexander Thomson, for an injunction a receiver, the proceedings in the circuit cuort furnished no further bar to the consolidation.

FROST DUE TONIGHT.

Rain and Cold Breezes Brought Thermometer to Low Mark.

According to observations made by the local weather bureau, this territory will be visited by a light frost tonight. The rain and cold breezes from the north Sunday afternoon and evening sent the mercury down to the record mark of 34 degrees at 2 o'clock this morning. This is the coldest registration here during the month. Since Saturday afternoon a precipitation of 1.98 was noted and as a result of the heavy rain rivers running through the city are unusually high for this season of the year.

Commission merchants and market men in general say frost will work damage to the early vegetables. A frost is usually expected about this time, but the damage will not be heavy if the frost is light, according to predictions. Fruit dealers are alarmed, however, as many orchards have already blossomed and frost will do much damage to the budding fruit.

TRACTION DIRECTORS HERE.

The gentlemen are in the city for an inspection of the company's property here and before returning to the east will make a trip over the line.

The regular monthly meeting of the Employes' Mutual Benefit association was held this afternoon in the office of Assistant Manager S. W. Greenland.

HE TALKS UP TO ROOSEVELT TOWN

Taft Defends Reciprocity Action in Camp of His Enemies.

SQUARE DEAL AGAIN

Dexter City, Ohio, May 13.—"They tell me this is a Roosevelt town," was the president's opening remark today to a crowd that met his train here, to listen to the second speech of his present campaign tour.

"It is," yelled a man on the station platform.

"They say you are against me," continued the president, "because I was in favor of reciprocity. Well, I was. I was in favor of reciprocity and I was in favor of it because I believed it to be for the good of the farmers and every other class."

Just as Mr. Taft finished, the train started to pull out. "Stop the train," said the president to the delight of many of his hearers. "I want to talk to these people."

"We sell of food stuffs and agricultural products to Canada four times what they sell to us," declared Mr. Taft after the crowd had walked forward and surrounded his car again. "They cannot raise corn up there; they can only raise the hardiest cereals and it would be greatly to the benefit of the farmers, but the thing is dead.

"Now, what I want to say to you, you are utterly illogical in opposing me on account of reciprocity when the fact is that before I entered into reciprocity at all I wrote to Theodore Roosevelt and consulted him about it and told him all the arguments both ways. He commended me most highly for going into the business and approved it in every way. Now that he finds that reciprocity is not popular with the farmers, he recants and says that—well, he has changed his mind about it.

"I would not have all your votes if I had to take back what I really believed

WIRE AN APPEAL TO CONVENTION

Industrial Workers Ask Socialists for Defense Fund.

MEANS A HOT FIGHT

Indianapolis, May 13.—Industrial Workers of the World and socialists of San Diego, Cal., today made a telegraphic appeal to the national socialist convention in session here for an appropriation with which to employ counsel to defend 150 union men said to be in jail there charged with rioting and to oppose the passage of an ordinance for deportation of all trades-unionists that made public demonstrations for "free speech." The matter was referred to the executive committee.

Delay in balloting for members of committees of the convention retarded its business today.

W. B. Haywood, leader of the Industrial Workers among the 280 delegates, said the effort to have the convention approve the "industrial form of labor organization" would be deferred until the resolutions committee was selected. This question is expected to bring about the sharpest division of the convention because of the opposition of "conservative" socialists to the industrial workers. Consideration of the reports of standing committees was to occupy the afternoon session.

D. M. Barnes, of Philadelphia, was elected chairman for the day.

Will Take Up Reports.

After the election of committees on resolutions, platform and constitution the socialist national convention was today to begin consideration of reports of special committees on immigration, extension of socialist propaganda among farmers and a campaign for the votes of women in states that have granted them the ballot. The committee on immigration has been unable to agree and majority and minority reports will be submitted. The majority report de-

CHARGE PLOT TO ENTRAP ARCHBALD

Purported Plan of Boland to Embarrass Jurist Comes to Light.

SENSATION IN CASE

Washington, May 13.—A purported deliberate plan of W. P. Boland, the Scranton, Pa., coal dealer, who originated the charges against Robert W. Archbald, of the commerce court, to entrap the jurist in an embarrassing transaction was revealed today before the house judiciary committee which is investigating the case to determine whether impeachment proceedings shall be instituted by the senate.

Allan Cockrell, confidential secretary of the interstate commerce commission, read to the committee his memorandum of W. P. Boland's original statement of the charges against Judge Archbald. Boland, according to the memorandum, told Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer that he purposely sought to entrap Judge Archbald in the Katydid culm bank transaction, after a demurrer in a suit against his coal company had been decided against him in Judge Archbald's court.

Boland declared that he sent E. J. Williams to Archbald to lure him into the Katydid culm option deal with the Erie railroad after Williams had come to him with Judge Archbald's $500 note for discount. Boland refused to discount the note and subsequently his demurrer was decided against him. In making the charges Boland admitted, according to Cockrell, that he had used Williams in an effort to inveigle the judge into a discreditable deal.

KILLS TWO; NOTIFIES WIDOWS; TRAVELS ALL NIGHT TO SURRENDER.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 13.—After Davil Elliott, a deputy sheriff of Bell county, Ky., had killed Luther and James Sizemore yesterday, he notified his victims' wives and then traveled most of the night over the mountains to surrender to county authorities. The shooting took place in a mountain "resort," near Middlesboro, late Sunday. Elliott came upon the Sizemores and told Luther to consider himself under arrest, whereupon Sizemore fired. His aim was faulty and before he could fire a fatal shot Elliott had whipped out a gun and returned the fusillade. Sizemore dropped dead. Aiming to avenge his brother's death, James Sizemore tried to reach a pistol that lay near the corpse. Immediately the deputy sheriff fired again and the second brother fell dead.

Elliott was uninjured, but his young son, who saw the fighting, received a bullet in the leg.

The Two Carnations.

ALTHOUGH a cold, drizzling rain fell almost continuously yesterday, the prevalence of white or colored carnations pinned to the wearing apparel of those who appeared out-of-doors brightened an otherwise gloomy day and gave evidence that hundreds remembered that it was Mother's day—a day set apart to honor the memory of the mothers who have gone beyond by the wearing of white carnations, and to show appreciation of those who are living by wearing a colored flower.

In a certain Sunday school of the city where the day was observed in a part of the opening exercises, the young son of a well-known Fort Wayne citizen appeared with two carnations, one a pure white and the other a deep pink. When the class had assembled in its study room one of the other boys, noticing the double decoration, said, rather bruskly:

"Hi, there, kid, what are you wearing two carnations for?"

For a moment the wearer of the flowers looked at his questioner and then, without answering, his eyes filled with tears. It then dawned upon the boys that their companion was wearing the white flower in memory of his departed mother and the pink one in honor and appreciation of that other mother who had come not only to take his own mother's place but to also claim his love.

His eyes filled with tears.

The eyes of the other boys were noticeably damp when they knew the reason, and they were particularly orderly during the entire class hour.

THE COMING OF COLUMBUS.

Beautiful Historical Film Showing at the Gaiety Theater.

An attraction of remarkable interest is being shown at the Gaiety theater today and tomorrow. The film, "The Coming of Columbus," is three thousand feet long and a production of the Selig polyscope. The main point, however, is its interesting pictures, which are wonderful and appeal alike to the student of history and the admirer of pictures that tell a live story with picturesque costumes and setting.

It may seem improbable that designers could so picture a story telling of Columbus' appeal to the students of his time, the king and queen of Spain, of his voyage across the seas, his landing on the island of San Salvador, his return to Spain accompanied by natives and gifts and subsequent incidents of his life, but it has been done.

The thing that has made this picture film possible was the use of the reproduction of the three boats of Columbus' fleet sent to the United States from Spain at the time of the Columbian exposition. Everyone who went to the World's Fair will recall the Pinta and other two ships in the waters of Lake Michigan, which were fitted out as much as possible as the originals were in 1492. The story of the film begins with the time Columbus began to interest the Ponce de Leon and others to intercede with the Spanish powers to send him on a voyage of discovery and closes with his return after his third voyage, to the new world, to Spain.

company go to the owners of these mills for their common stock alone?"

Bargain With Syndicate.

Mr. Reid said he had made a bargain with the syndicate managers for what he was going to get for holdings in his own company, the Elwood Tin Plate company.

"How much did you get?"

"I don't remember."

Judge Moore, he said, was one of the syndicate managers.

It is the government's contention that the American Tin Plate company's stock was watered. The total capitalization issued, Mr. Reid said, was about $46,000,000, of which $10,000,000 went to the syndicate managers for putting the deal through and to the owners of the various mills as a bonus.

"State whether there was a rise in the prices of tin plate immediately after the formation of this company in 1908," Judge Dickinson said. Mr. Reid surprised Judge Dickinson by producing a book containing tables of tin plate prices.

Expected This One.

"I anticipated that I'd be asked that question."

The average price of tin plate was $3.26 a hundred weight in 1897; $2.99 in 1898; $4.41 in 1899; $4.82 in 1900, and $4.35 in 1901. Its highest price in 1899 was $4.85," he said.

"Didn't the American Tin Plate company enter into contracts to take the full product of various plants manufacturing tin plate machinery in order to keep it from going into the hands of competitors" asked Judge Dickinson.

"My mind is a perfect blank on that subject," said Mr. Reid.

Judge Dickinson read from testimony given by Mr. Reid before the industrial commission in 1899.

"Does that refresh your recollection?"

"That was 12 tor 13 years ago. I don't remember anything about it."

"Don't you remember a single thing you knew twelve or thirteen years ago?"

"I don't remember everything."

Judge Dickinson asked if the witness knew of anybody who could remember anything about the contracts in question.

"Yes, there's W. T. Graham, right in this city, and president of the American company," said Mr. Reid.

Mr. Reid was shown a copy of one of the contracts in question, but failed to remember anything about it. On cross examination the financier's memory seemed to improve and he gave lengthy answers to questions by C. A. Severance, attorney for the defense, in regard to early conditions in the tin plate industry.

"Was it your intention when you organized the American Tin Plate company to monopolize the industry?" asked Mr. Severance.

"We figured that by combination we could buy supplies cheaper, reduce overhead charges and make the business more profitable. We did not intend to monopolize. There were a number of mills not taken in and at the present time there are nearly as many tin mills not under the control of the steel corporation as there are controlled by it."

The most elaborate historical photo-play yet attempted is a three-reel subject, "The Coming of Columbus," made by the Selig Polyscope Co. It presents the life of Columbus and incidents leading up to and following his great achievement of the discovery of America. This great moving picture masterpiece was three years in the making, and cost $50,000. There are 350 people in the cast, and the three caravels, which had been built in exact reproduction of the vessels used by Columbus and presented to the United States government by the Spanish nation, were secured for this great production by Mr. William N. Selig, who refitted the ships and made them seaworthy. In order that the production might be a perfect a duplicate as possible of the original achievement, Mr. Selig had even secured the very log-book used by Columbus. This great feature, which is the sensation of the entire motion picture loving world, has been secured at great expense, for a very limited engagement, by the Gaiety theater and will be exhibited in this house today and tomorrow.

was for your interest whether you like it or not, and whether you give me your votes or not. But I appeal to you whether it is a square deal for a man to change right in the nick, when he wants votes, although we both were for reciprocity. Now that is a condition I would like to have you study. It is a dead issue, but I see no reason for voting one way or the other so far as the vote is concerned, but I ask for a square deal."

With his fighting blood up, President Taft today began in Marietta his one thousand mile speech making dash around Ohio which will take him into practically every corner of the state and which will come to an end only a few hours before the polls open for the voters to register their preferences for president on May 21.

His voice is apparently in excellent shape for the work of the next ten days and in the best sort of physical condition according to Major Thomas L. Rhoades, his physician. Mr. Taft started what political friends regard as the most important campaign trip ever made in a speech to a crowd here that had awaited around the Baltimore & Ohio station since early morning. In addition to his speech here Mr. Taft's program for today included addresses at Caldwell, Cambridge, Newcomerstown, Dennison, Chrichsville, St. Clairsville, Bellaire, Bridgeport and night address at Steubenville.

PRESIDENT GROWS BITTER.

Holds the Colonel Up to Ridicule in Cambridge Speech.

Cambridge, O., May 13.—In one of the most bitter speeches he has made since he began his active campaign for a renomination, President Taft here today held Roosevelt up to ridicule, called him an intense and dangerous egotist, a flatterer and demagogue and suggested that there would be but little hope for the future of this nation if Mr. Roosevelt were wafted to the skies in a chariot like the prophet of old and there was no one left to do the job Mr. Roosevelt said the country needs him to do.

The president's speech was long and boiled over with attacks and criticisms of Col. Roosevelt.

"You'd suppose there was not anybody in the country to do this job that Mr. Roosevelt talks about but himself," shouted the president at one point.

"It's I, I, I, all the time with him.

"Suppose you feed that egotism and vanity and put him in office with a sense of power and a disregard of constitutional restrictions, it would be dangerous for this country.

"I hold that that man is a demagogue and a flatterer who comes out and tells the people they know it all. I hate a flatterer. I like a man to tell the truth straight out and I hate to see a man try to honeyfugle the people by telling them something he don't believe.

"Do you think?" he asked, "that Abraham Lincoln, to whom Mr. Roosevelt so often refers and to whom he likes to compare himself and to whom he bears less resemblance than any one I know in the history of this country, would have acted as he has and misrepresented me as he has?

"Mr. Roosevelt promises the millenium, free from bosses. Well, then, why wasn't there a millenium during the seven years he was in the white house?"

Mr. and Mrs. Collins were married in Ireland. PRINTERS DECLINE TO JOIN.

Vote Against Sympathetic Strike in Chicago Decisive.

Chicago, May 13.—By a vote of 1099 to 6,555 members of the typographical union yesterday voted not to go on strike in sympathy with the pressmen, who are now out in all Chicago daily newspaper offices.

Following the counting of the vote President James M. Lynch, of the International Typographical union, said:

"This vote is final. I am well pleased with the result. I believe the pressmen, who are out, and the stereotypers, who went out in sympathy with them, are well able to take care of themselves. It would have been a bad thing to have broken our contract with the publishers. It could not have been done by clear-headed men who believed in fairness."

The pressmen were downcast over the failure of the typographical union to join them.

FEW ARRESTS IN CHICAGO.

Newspaper Strike Situation Growing Much Quieter.

Chicago, May 13.—Fewer arrests were made today in the newspaper strike than any time since the beginning of the labor troubles. The action of the typographical union yesterday in voting against joining the pressmen and stereotypers in a sympathetic strike had apparently had a discouraging effect on the strikers and their friends and as a result "pickets," who volunteered to prevent the street sales of newspapers were not as aggressive as on previous days. Newspapers were sold practically in every section of the city and at many locations without police protection.

Chicago, May 13.—President P. J. Flannery, of the freight handlers union, today sent a letter to the General Managers association agreeing to submit to arbitration the demands of the strikers. The men ask an increase of pay, a nine hour day and a Saturday half holiday.

REICHSTAG ADOPTS IT.

Berlin, May 13.— The reichstag today adopted the anti-duelling resolution introduced on May 9 with an amendment drawn up by the socialist members providing that officers who refuse to accept a challenge to a duel shall not be dismissed from the army.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE.

Brownstown, Ind., May 13.—After being out all night the jury in the case of Hugh A. Burrell, president of the People's State bank, when it failed in 1907, failed to agree. He was tried on a charge of forgery.

FOR ROOSEVELT IN MANILA.

Manila, May 13.—A convention of supporters of Col. Roosevelt today elected as contesting delegates to the Chicago convention Mr. Squires and Judge Waite, who are pledged to vote for Roosevelt or any other progressive candidate for nomination.

PRESSMEN TO IGNORE CALL.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—The pressmen of the Los Angeles Examiner will ignore the call of President Barry of the International Web Pressmen's union and remain at work, it is understood. Their contract, which was signed about a week ago, carried a raise in wages.

WHITLEY WOMAN HIT BY LIGHTNING BOLT

While Sitting in Her Home Sewing—Fell to Floor in Unconscious Condition.

Columbia City, Ind., May 13.—Mrs. Clarence Warnick, of Smith township, was seriously injured Saturday at her home by being struck by lightning, and she is at the present time confined to her bed and grave fears are entertained for her recovery. At the time of receiving the severe electrical stroke Mrs. Warnick was sitting in the bed room with her mother-in-law, who had been ill for some time and she was keeping her company and at the time was sewing some buttons on a shirt for her husband.

It was storming at the time and without warning there was a flash of light in the room and the mother-in-law noticed when she recovered from being blinded by the flash that Mrs. Warnick was lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. Dr. Jesse Briggs, of Churubusco, was summoned and an examination of the afflicted woman disclosed the fact that she was quite badly burned about the back of the head and neck and the result showed that she had received a very severe shock of electricity.

Dr. Briggs stated that as near as he could ascertain that the woman at the time of being struck was sitting directly beneath a chimney, and he is of the opinion that the bolt of lightning followed the chimney down, and that Mrs. Warnick being in direct line with the chimney received the charge of the electricity at the back of her head and neck.

PLANS HADLEY HOME.

Directors to Meet in June for Reorganization.

Indianapolis, May 13.—The board of directors of the Indiana Children's Home society, the license of which to operate as an orphanage at Hadley was revoked last September by the board of state charities, will meet in June to perfect a reorganization of the society and to consider a proposal to reduce the number of directors from thirty-six to twelve. The recommendation for such reorganization and reduction was made by J. L. Peetz, superintendent.

The board appointed a special committee last fall to arrange to dispose of certain property held by the society in connection with the Hadley home, and to use the proceeds in building a home on the cottage plan at Westfield, where the society owns real estate. Nothing has been done toward the sale, it was reported. This will be taken up again and an effort made to carry out the original intention.

Superintendent Peetz reported that the receipts of the society for the last year amounted to $8,709.71 and disbursements to $8,503.56. Mr. Peetz reported the receipt of several letters from county auditors asking that the work of the society be continued.

GIRL AND GUN DEFY COURT.

Gets in Trouble by Protecting Friend's Property.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 13.—Miss Flora Petty, who lives in a shack near Coal Bluff, defied the order of Judge Batt and bluffed everybody in the neighborhood when she forcibly took possession of a horse and three cows, property of Ed Yocum, her friend, who is in jail at Brazil on a charge of stealing chickens. The live stock was in possession of Christopher Walton as receiver.

"I don't care nothing about no court. Ed's cows and nag are going to stay here," said Miss Petty, as she flourished a big revolver, and got busy on the recovery of the cattle from the lot where Walton had put them.

An order was issued for the arrest of Miss Petty for contempt of court.

TOLD BY THE TROUBLED TOURIST

"THIS seems to be the open season for buds, cars and fans," remarked the Troubled Tourist.

"The first open car has just trundled down Main street bearing its usual spring cargo, which includes the man who always insists on smoking a rank cigar somewhere forward of the prescribed four rear seats, and the man whose unleashed straw hat always insists on blowing into the face of the passenger behind him.

"The end seat individual is also there waiting for the fool killer to come along and slay him. Also the heavy person who always crowds in between seats and insists on standing on your toes instead of his own. The open car is really one of the greatest joys of springtime.

"It is always put on on the day when one has just—er—stored his winter overcoat and spring has started to sag back into winter again. A windy day is also selected in order to give the loose hats and loose smoke a fair chance. As an approved system of cold storage, commend me to the early open car.

"It would be a decided improvement if the conductors on open cars would provide themselves with collection boxes on long handles like they used to have in meeting. Then they could collect the nickel of the individual in the far end of the seat without falling all over the outside passenger or gouging him in the eye with a particularly sharp elbow.

"Somebody, of course, has to sit in that desirable outside end seat, but that is no reason why the outside ender should be penalized by the conductor.

MORE OPEN SEASON.

"Contribution boxes of this sort might interfere with some of those passing the nickel flirtations, but they would at least keep the conductor from falling on his face in the aisle.

"Another reform it seems to me it would be well to institute now the open season for cars is on, is to make it a crime for any person standing on the inside of a crowded seat to get off the car until everybody between him and the outside has gotten off. Of course this may cause him to be carried fifteen or twenty blocks beyond his destination, but he will have preserved the neighborly feeling in the car. No one likes to have inside passengers crawling over his neck and ears when he is comfortably seated.

"The custom in such cases heretofore has been to duck out under the inside rail of the car, but this is attended with some inconvenience, inasmuch as you are liable to fall up against an automobile or a policeman. It doesn't matter much which, as both are equally peevish.

"When caught in a pocket like that don't yell for help. Merely stay on the car until the passengers in your way have alighted, then walk back. The exercise will do you good.

"Also don't loose your temper if you and another passenger leap on the running board for the only remaining seat in the car. Gently but firmly shove him out of the way with one foot while you step up with the other. It takes a little practice at first.

"If the woman passenger in the seat in front of you raps you in the face with the brim of her hat or jabs a hatpin into your cheek, smile pleasantly and beg her pardon for having your foolish face in the way.

"If your own hat blows off into the street, don't bother about it. Let it go. You can always get another hat, but you can't always get another car—right away."

The Attack on Meat Inspection.

The attack on federal meat inspection now being made by Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, before the house committee on expenditures in the agricultural department is attracting somewhat more than ordinary local attention from the fact that Mrs. Crane has delivered addresses in Fort Wayne on a number of occasions and is quite well known in this city. It is interesting, too, from the fact that principal previous objection has been made to the system as a whole—a war on the system by those who contend that old ways were good enough, and that scientific scrutiny of the meat supply is wholly unnecessary. Happily, this view is practically confined to those whose selfish interests outweigh their regard for public health, and is not at all disturbing as an element in the question.

The militant Mrs. Crane, however, declares that federal inspection as it is practiced is not sufficiently rigorous; that rules governing the service have nullified much of its efficacy, and that the regulations have been modified and twisted and contorted in the interest of the packer and at the sacrifice of public safety. Mrs. Crane is leading the fight for the adoption of the Nelson resolution to investigate the meat inspection service, and since investigations have become somewhat epidemic in these days, the demand is perhaps not at all surprising.

But there is another side to the proposition. Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, is contending strongly for the integrity of the present meat inspection service, and is defending it as rigorously as Mrs. Crane is assailing it. Dr. A. B. Nevin, of this city, who is in general charge of federal meat inspection in Indiana, calls the attention of The Sentinel to the declaration of Secretary Wilson emphatically asserting that the meat inspection law has been enforced to the letter, and that the integrity of the meat inspection service is undoubted. "If we had accepted the views of faddists," said the secretary, "instead of the opinions of eminent scientists, the department would have condemned in the last six years the carcasses of six million animals which were sound, wholesome and fit for food." Secretary Wilson declares further that the meat inspection service of the United States is the best in the world, and that "the interests of the meat packer have never been considered whenever there has been involved the question of public health and the rigid enforcement of the law."

Here is a contention in which the opposing lines are drawn so sharply there can be no mistaking positions, and clearly the public is entitled to know who is right about it.

Every veteran who served ninety days or more in the naval or military service of the United States during the civil war, who has been honorably discharged and who is over 62 years of age, is entitled to a pension under the new act which became a law when President Taft affixed his signature to the bill Saturday evening. For veterans 62 years and over the rate provided in the law, for ninety days' service, is $13 a month and it ranges to $16 a month up to three years of service; for 66 years and over the rate is $15 a month for ninety days and ranges up to $19 for three years; for 70 years old and over, the rate for ninety days is $18 a month and ranges up to $25 a month for three years; at 75 years old and over, the rate for ninety days' service is $21 and ranges up to $30 for three years.

SHADE TREE PLANTING.

(Indianpaolis News.)

One of the beneficial results of the reforestation campaign in Indiana has been the renewed interest in tree planting, not only in plots and tracts, but along the streets of the cities. Indianapolis is one of the best shaded cities in the United States. The beauty of its streets is acknowledged. The extension of shade trees to points far within the business district and the existence of University park, within a short distance of the center of the city, win approbation from visitors.

Forestry is an important part of every German municipality. Many German cities have private forest reserves which yield the city a considerable revenue in timber at long intervals and a constant supply of firewood, which finds a ready sale in the municipal markets. Germany was used as an example in the Indiana reforestation campaign. It might also be taken as a model in shade tree planting. One of the pleasantest and most striking features of Frankfort is its wealth of verdure. In addition to the famous Palmengarten, the Zoological garden and a host of parks and squares, the "Anlagen," or parks laid out on the site of the old outer wall, torn down at the beginning of the nineteenth century, encircle the center of the town. The residence part of the city is beautified by its gardens and the principal streets and highways are planted with shade trees. The trees are generally set out at intervals of twenty-six feet. Great care is used in planting and trimming. In case of drought the trees are watered once a week or once in two weeks. The result is that Frankfort is a city of shade trees.

China is an example of a great country without much timber. The Great Plain never had any forests to speak of, and the mountains for the most part have suffered from erosion. The new government has taken no interest in reforestation, but a British mining and shipping corporation, having a vast concession eighty miles north of Tientsin, has already set out one million acacia trees and plans to do even greater work. France is following Germany's lead in the matter of trees. French cities are notably beautiful because of their verdure. The trees along the boulevards of Paris form a picture never to be forgotten by the traveler.

Indiana has two arbor days—one in the spring and another in the fall. One has just passed. Many trees were set out by children, but unless these trees are cared for there will be no results. Many new real estate additions have been opened and it is gratifying to see that in these hundreds of trees have been set out. Indianapolis should care for the trees it has and should plant more.

WHERE WOMAN IS BOSS.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

That was a delightfully illustrative incident in the children's court in New York the other day. An Italian boy had been committed to a home at the request of his father. The mother, who barely reached to the man's shoulder, wanted the lad released, and the father had come with her to second the request. "Are you not boss in your own house?" inquired the court. "In Italy I'm boss. Here she is boss," was the reply.

And it does not take long after arrival in this country for the transformation to take place. It is admitted that in no country is woman's position so high as here. However repressed their status abroad, the most superficial observance of conditions in America soon impress upon them that in this country "she is boss." It is one of the first American institutions that appeals to them, this pedestaling of woman. It's in the air. Land of the free as this may be to the male immigrant, it is even more so to the woman. And sooner or later the men yield to the spirit of environment and, like this Italian father in the New York children's court, admit that no matter how it may have been in the old country, here "she is boss," and to feel a good American pride in the confession.

PRESS COMMENT UPON THE SUFFRAGE FORCES.

Essential.

Washington Post: "The ten thousand women who took part in that parade are as essential to the progress of the world as any ten thousand men that could be gathered together for a similar parade."

Converts.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Many, including the police inspector in charge of the parade, declared themselves converts, so impressed were they by the physical and moral character of the demonstration."

Scarecrow.

New York Evening Post: "And all of this we were solemnly told menaces the home and family. Thus the same familiar scarecrow, trotted out whenever women have taken a step forward, appears once more."

Special Privilege.

Pittsburg Leader: "If we are really to make genuine effort to wipe out special privilege, why not begin by giving votes to women and putting an end to the special privilege of votes for men only?"

Those Opposed.

Providence Journal: "A parade of those opposed to having their sex attached to the electorate would outnumber this one, very likely."

Question of Time.

Washington Herald: "Will women give the time that men cannot or will they do as the men do, vote when they feel like it, or when it is convenient?"

Torchlights.

Philadelphia Bulletin: "Men who will strut on parade at the least provocation and who have wasted thousands on thousands of dollars in torchlight parades and similar demonstrations as a means of creating political 'opinion' can hardly criticize the women's movement."

Parades.

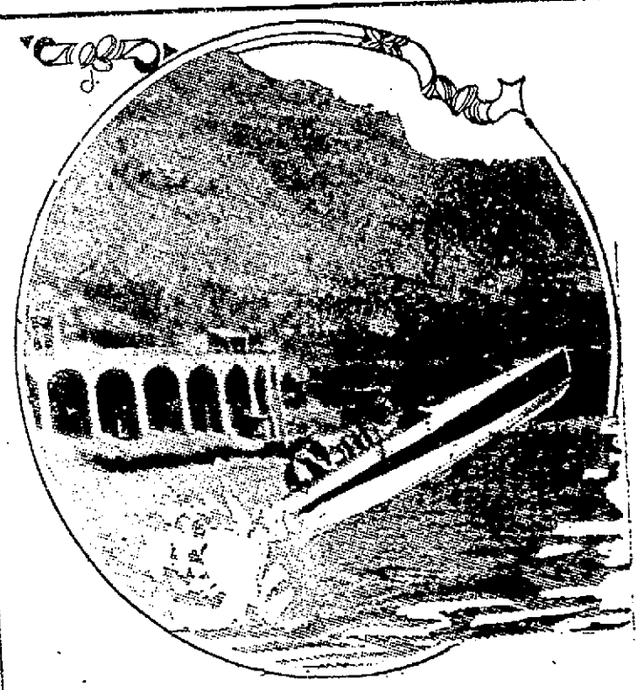
Denver Times: "Street parades in New York city and brick throwing in London take away from the dignity of this modern struggle for justice to women."

FLOWERS AT LIVERY OPENING.

Owners Wear Full Dress and an Orchestra Plays.

South Bend, Ind., May 13.—Music by an orchestra, and carnation favors marked the opening of a livery barn here. Nothing of the kind had ever been attempted before in this section, and nearly four thousand persons attended. Men in full livery met visitors as they stepped from the street cars or their automobiles, and took them through the place. The officers of the company wore full dress. The opening was novel in that livery barns are rarely dedicated, and scarcely ever in such an elaborate fashion. The barn is brick and fireproof, and cost $20,000, and was built for the St. Joe Livery company.

SPEAKING OF BRONCHOS—TAKE A LOOK



The above photograph, showing the motor boat "Saurer Lurssen," was made at the Monaco races. The boat is shown doing the "impossible" in leaping from the water for more than half her length, but the photograph shows just what occurred as the speed machine crossed the line, at the start of the race.

Now Comes the "Lemon Kiss"—It's Sane, Sanitary and Auto-Puckering.

Dr. Paul S. Hunter of the Colorado board of health advises a young man to take a lemon in his pocket when he calls on his lady friend.

The lemon is not to be taken as an intimation that the girl is not a peach in the garden of love. Dr. Hunter agrees with other scientists that kissing spreads disease. He says kissing can not be stopped by law and the use of the hygienic screen is not practicable.

"While a lemon cannot be named in the class of disinfectants," says Dr. Hunter, "yet it is recognized as being more or less of a disinfectant. Therefore, if a girl and her fellow would suck a lemon after each kiss it might help some."

Indeed it might help some. If you can only persuade the girl to suck a lemon she's bound to pucker up her lips. The more lemon, the more pucker; the more pucker, the more kisses.

RESCUES CHILD FROM DEATH.

Miner Risks Life and Friends Will Ask Carnegie Medal.

Sullivan, Ind., May 13.—Because Jas. Baker, a miner, employed at Mammoth Vein, near this city, risked his life to rescue Laura Marie Convey, age seven, from in front of an interurban car, his friends will endeavor to obtain a Carnegie medal for him.

The little girl toddled in front of the car and Baker sprang in front of the wheels and grabbed her by the dress. She broke loose, and he risked his life a second time and dragged her from the track.

Bart McCarthy, of Dawson street, is at Chicago to attend the funeal services of the mother of Hon. J. P. Hopkins, former mayor of Chicago.

KICKS MAN INTO RIVER.

Duck Shooter Had Extra Heavy Charge in Gun.

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—An extra heavy cartridge in a shotgun, used to make sure of the first ducks sighted after an all day's hunt, caused a violent recoil which threw the Nimrod, Edward Katcher, into the Detroit river just above Belle Isle.

Katcher, being unable to regain his duck boat, was forced to swim some distance to the head of the island, from where he made his way to the police station. He was nearly exhausted by his struggle in the water, but after resting at the police station he was able to return to his home.

TO RAISE POTATOES FOR POOR.

Lafayette and Its Charity Organization Will Become Gardeners.

Lafayette, Ind., May 13.—Potatoes for the poor will be raised in Lafayette this summer by the city and the Charity Organization society. An agreement has been made whereby potato seed will be furnished by the city for the gardens, which will be made on vacant lots furnished the charity society by their owners. The plowing will be done by the city, and the planting by the society. The crop will be harvested in the fall, and the potatoes will be distributed among the poor by the society.

TRANSFORMATIONS

Curious Results When Tea and Coffee Drinking Are Abandoned.

It is almost as hard for an old tea or coffee toper to quit as it is for a whisky or tobacco fiend to break off, except that the tea or coffee user can quit and take up Postum without any feeling of a loss of the morning beverage.

When Postum is well made and served with cream, it is really better in point of flavor than most of the coffee served nowadays. To the taste of the connoisseur it is very like the flavor of fine, mild Java.

A great transformation takes place in the body within ten days or two weeks after coffee or tea is left off and Postum used. The reason is that the poison to the nerves—caffeine—has been discontinued and in its place is taken a liquid food that contains the most powerful element of nourishment.

It is easy to make this test and prove these statements by changing to Postum. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

HAS ACCEPTED CALL AS PASTOR

Rev. C. H. Snashall, of Chicago Comes to First Baptist Church.

ARRIVES IN AUGUST

The new pastor at the First Baptist church, succeeding Rev. Dr. Vichert, who resigned some weeks ago to accept the pastorate of a charge at Providence,

REV. CHARLTON H. SNASHALL,
Accepts Call as Pastor of the First Baptist Church.

R. I., will be Rev. Carlton H. Snashall, who for the last thirteen years has been pastor of the Grace Baptist church at Chicago. This announcement Dr. E. E. Morgan, the chairmaln of the pulpit committee, made at the regular services at the church Sunday morning. He will not assume his duties here until early in August, the pastorate in the meantime, after the 9th of June, being filled by Rev. Dr. Toy, of Winona, as has been previously announced in the Sentinel.

Rev. Mr. Snashall is a pulpit speaker of splendid ability and for some time has been a lyceum and Chautauqua lecturer, meeting with success and pleasing his audiencess in this field of work. He resigned as pastor of the church at Chicago a few weeks ago for a year's work and study in other fields but was prevailed on by the pulpit committee of the First Baptist church in this city, although he had declined offers elsewhere. The new pastor is a graduate of the Kalamazoo college and the University of Chicago, assuming the pastorate of the Grace church at Chicago immediately after leaving the University of Chicago. In his ministerial work he has been wonderfully successful and has efficient help in church work in his wife, who is a woman of culture and refinement.

Rev. Mr. Snashall filled the pulpit of the Baptist church in this city a few weeks ago, preaching Sunday morning and evening, and his audiences were highly pleased with the sermons delivered.

SHIVELY MAPS A PLAN OF BATTLE

Senator to Aid in Fight for Marshall at the Convention.

WILL CALL MEETING

Washington, May 13.—Senator Shively, chairman of the Indiana delegation to the Baltimore convention, will call a meeting of the Indiana delegation, to be held at Baltimore several days before the convention meets and coincident with the arrival of the vanguard of delegates from the various states.

The purpose of this meeting will be to take aggressive steps to land the presidential nomination for Governor Marshall. The delegation of thirty members will be divided into subcommittees, and to each subcommittee there will be assigned the task of interviewing the delegates from a certain number of states with a view to inducing them, if possible, to support Governor Marshall.

The senator will see that arrangements are carried into effect for a large supply of Marshall buttons and lithographs, as well as for literature setting forth Governor Marshall's achievements and his qualifications for the high office.

It is fortunate for Governor Marshall that Senator Shively is chairman of the Indiana delegation, for the senior Indiana senator is determined that the governor shall get a square deal at Baltimore. If he can help it, there will be no hocus-pocus tactics by which the delegation will give Marshall a perfunctory support on the first ballot or two, and then switch to some one else.

It is an important fact in this connection that Shively, as a United States senator, has the power of confirmation to use as a club in Governor Marshall's behalf. It goes without saying that political plums would more than likely be the inducement that would lead Indiana delegates to break away from the instructions of the state convention and join in a break-neck, band-wagon rush to some other candidate.

In a game of this kind Senator Shively would have the last play, for it is a long way between the promise and the delivery of a federad political plum. Any office that amounts to much is subject to the confirmatory power of the senate. Under the operation of the rule of senatorial courtesy, one senator can usually, most invariably, defeat the confirmation of any appointee of an administration to which that senator belongs.

In times past there has been no love lost between Shively and Marshall, but in this emergency the former is for Marshall just as long as Marshall has the faintest glimmer of a show to win the presidency. He would consider it the acme of poor politics for the Indiana delegation to go to Baltimore under instructions for Marshall and then seize the first pretext to toss him overboard.

Senator Shively is not waiting for the Baltimore convention to begin work for Marshall. Nearly every day he takes occasion to speak a good word for the governor in conversation with senators or representatives.

SCATTERS BLOSSOMS ON SEA.

Widow of Titanic Victim Pays Tribute to Lost Husband.

New York, May 13.—Standing upon the bridge of the Carmania in midocean last Thursday evening, Mrs. J. H. Loring, of New York and London, scattered armfuls of flowers upon the waters of the Atlantic in memory of her husband, who lost his life on the Titanic. When the Carmania, which reached here yesterday, arrived in latitude 41.16 and longitude 50.14, the nearest position to where the Titanic sank, Mrs. Loring, attired in deep mourning, was escorted to the bridge by Capt. Dow.

Five hundred cabin passengers stood upon the decks as Mrs. Loring scattered the flowers upon the sea. Men stood with heads bowed and uncovered, while some of the women passengers, touched by the wife's devotion, wept.

When the Mackay-Bennett and the Minia, the steamships dispatched to search the scene of the disaster, failed to find the body of Mr. Loring, who was a member of the brokerage firm of Rose & Van Custon of London, Mrs. Loring decided to make the trip across the Atlantic to pay a last tribute to the memory of her husband.

IN THE KITCHEN AND PANTRY.

So many dainties tempt the housewife at this season of the year that she finds it difficult to keep a hold on her pocketbook. Among the best of the new recipes for chicken is called "chicken chartreuse," quite as good as it sounds. An attractive new tomato salad is suggested, and to complete the menu a tempting strawberry shortcake.

Celery Consomme
Chicken Chartreuse, White Sauce.
Potato Croquettes. Grape Jelly
Tomato Salad, la Rose.
Strawberry Shortcake
Demi-Tasse.

Chicken Chartreuse.

Dice the remains of a roast chicken. Wash one cupful of rice, drop it into a kettle filled with salted boiling water and keep at a galloping boil until the grains are tender, then drain. Have ready a buttered mold. Line it an inch thick with rice. Season the meat and to one pint add a sauce made with one tablespoonful of butter, two of flour, three-quarters of a cupful of milk, salt, pepper and onion juice to taste, a half teaspoonful of lemon juice, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and, when taken from the fire and slightly cooled, two well beaten eggs. Pack this mixture in the center of the mold, cover with the remainder of the rice and steam for an hour; turn out carefully on a hot platter and serve with cream or tomato sauce, passing grape, wine or any fruit jelly as an accompaniment.

Cream Sauce.

Put a piece of butter the size of an egg into a saucepan with a dessertspoon of fine flour, beat them smoothly together with a wooden spoon. When the butter is melted add gradually one-half pint of cream or new milk and a little salt, pepper, pounded mace. Let the sauce simmer over a gentle fire and stir it constantly. If too thick thin by the addition of a small quantity of milk or cream. The juice of a lemon may be added if liked. Time, a quarter of an hour. Sufficient for a little more than half a pint.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Children's millinery is really bewitching. For everyday wear there are some "Dunty" shapes, with rather high crowns of coarse straw, the crown carrying the regulation band of ribbon or black ribbon velvet, and numbers of close fitting basin styles in drawn taffeta or pliable pedal, some being completely round and others showing an inclination to stand out a scintillation at either side.

Especially pleasing is a pliable straw with a narrow brim and high, squarish crown—in fact a veritable Paddy shape. Worn at a saucy angle and by the right child, with laughing, piquant face, this Paddy is an assured success. Nor is the sugar loaf crown at all conspicuous by its absence, allied for the most part to a pliable brim that can be rolled or caught up at any angle most becoming to the small wearer.

SATIN FOR SPRING SUITS.

Plain gowns in wool back satin are serviceable for early spring wear and when the weather becomes just a shade milder these satin suits will be very fashionable made quite severely plain, relieved only with decorative buttons. Crystal buttons look very well on colored satins. One pretty model seen recently was in black, with two rows of buttons down the front, and relieved only by muslin frills at the neck and cuffs. A wide stole worn with it was of black silk mousseline, lined with sapphire piece and edged with white marabout fur. A black straw hat accompanied this costume. It was turned up with black velvet and showed the charm of ribbon trimmings, which in this instance were shot blue and black.

In the Kitchen and Pantry.

Roes and mushrooms on toast will appeal to the woman who likes to ask her friends to a dainty luncheon. Spring salad is a seasonable suggestion for the salad course, while hot bread, marmalade and marshmallow chocolate complete the tempting menu.

Pimento Cup.
Roes and Mushrooms on Toast.
Muffins. Fruit Marmalade.
Spring Salad.
Nut Cake. Marshmallow Chocolate.

Roes and Mushrooms on Toast.

Make the necessary number of round croutons of lightly fried bread and choose mushrooms the same size as the croutons. Peel the mushrooms, rinse them in warm water to remove any grit and take off the stalks. Place them on a greased baking sheet, stalk side uppermost. Put pieces of butter on each mushroom and a little pepper and salt, cover with buttered paper, and cook in a moderate oven about fifteen minutes. Serve a mushroom on each crouton, and on each mushroom place a cooked bloater roe curled round. Serve very hot.

Grape Fruit Marmalade.

Take four grape fruit and two oranges. Wash fruit, quarter and remove seeds. Put through a grinder. Add three pints of cold water to each pint of pulp. Let stand twenty-four hours, then boil fifteen minutes. Let stand another twenty-four hours. Measure again, add a pound of sugar to each pint of pulp. Boil from one and a half to two hours. Pour into glasses. The next day after it has hardened pour melted paraffin wax over the tops.

Spring Salad.

One bunch head lettuce, two large oranges, one medium Bermuda onion and one-half of a cupful of French dressing will be needed for this recipe. Crisp the lettuce and arrange on individual salad plates. Peel the orange and slice in half-inch slices, crosswise. Cut four one-fourth inch slices of onion crosswise. Arrange one slice of onion between two of orange, place on lettuce and pour French dressing over all.

Serving Chocolate.

When serving chocolate or cocoa, if you have no cream place a fresh marshmallow in each cup, then pour the chocolate over it. It will rise to the top, dissolve and take the place of cream. The marshmallows in the tin boxes keep fresh quite a long time.

DIES AS CHOIR SINGS.

Miss Fern Davis Evicted from Shack at Johnstown, Pa.

Johnstown, Pa., May 13.—As the church choir, of which she was a member, sang the "Processional" yesterday, Miss Fern Davis died from blows inflicted several days ago. George Henderson, who many times had listened to her singing, learned of her death while in a cell at Ebensburg. He began to scream and tear his clothes. Persons passing the jail could hear him and it was not until late last night that he was quieted.

The alleged blows did not fracture the skull nor did they form a blood clot. It is believed that the shock of the man she is supposed to have loved, inflicting the punishment resulted in death.

YOU'D LOOK PRETTY IN THIS ON GRADUATION DAY.

The girl who is graduating from school this season could not make her graduating frock after a prettier model than that pictured here.

The fabric used in this model is bath toweling, which is making a strong bid for popularity. The dress is untrimmed, with the exception of the buttons and silken buttonholes and is made in one piece.

The blouse is kimona shape with set in sleeves. A contrast is given to this simple white frock by the silken sash and tie. These are of pale blue chiffon taffeta and finished with long knotted fringe.

SAVES $5,000 AN GETS $1 REWARD

The Honest Cobbler Laughs Long and Hearty Afterward.

DIAMONDS IN A SHOE

Chicago, Ill., May 13.—David J. Winder, who keeps a cobbler shop near the corner of Evanston avenue and Irving Park boulevard, found a handful of diamonds, valued at $5,000, in the toe of an old shoe brought to him for repair, and for returning the jewels to the owner received an offer of a reward of $1, which he refused.

When the story of the lost diamonds and the reward threatened to become public Mrs. Robert W. Pike, owner of the gems, disappeared. It was said at her home, in Sheridan road, that she had left the city.

Winder and his wife both were busy in their shop when inquiries were made there.

"Oh, yes," said Winder, banging a wooden peg into the sole of a shoe and shifting to one side a few more pegs he held between his teeth. "I found the diamonds. It was the biggest find I ever made. There's hardly a week gone by, though, but I find money and We never bother with names.

"Mrs. Pike sent her old shoes over here by a girl. There were five of them in a rickety pasteboard box. My wife received them, marked them, tossed them over in a corner and gave the girl a check with a number on it. We never bother with names.

"Well, as I commenced to straighten things up for the night my eye caught the sparqle of something on the floor. I thought it was a piece of glass at first, but then I saw some more sparkling points. I got on my knees and picked them up. My wife didn't see me and I didn't say anything to her because I knew she would get excited.

"In a moment I found a little chamois bag. I knew what had happened—somebody had been hiding jewels in an old shoe. Who it was I didn't know. But I did know that it wouldn't be long before I found out.

"When I had the diamonds all picked up there was a handful of them. Any one of them would have bought my store. I decided not to tell a soul for fear the story might spread and somebody break in and murder my wife and me.

"About two days afterward a girl came in almost crying. She threw her check down on the counter.

"'My shoes! Where are my shoes? Quick! Hurry!' I looked up and smiled when my wife gave her the shoes and looked puzzled at the customer's agitation.

"'The diamonds! They are gone! Please give them back to me!' shrieked the girl.

"She became frantic when my wife told her she knew nothing about any diamonds. Then I stepped up and told her the diamonds were safe. Later I took them to Mrs. Pike myself.

"A neighbor brought me $1 as a reward for the return of the $5,000 worth of diamonds. That was about the funniest thing I ever heard of. I laughed and laughed and when I was able to stop laughing I waved my hands at him and told him to hurry back to Mrs Pike with the $1.

"Why, two weeks ago a poor woman offered me $5 for the return of $50 I found in her shoe. But I would not accept it. I might, however, have taken something worth while for the anxiety and worry I had in protecting $5,000 worth of diamonds."

WIFE STOWS AWAY.

Rides Vessel Hold to Be With Her Husband.

Baltimore, May 13.—Cool and possessed and just 20 years old, Mrs. C. L. Boggs, an American, was arraigned before Immigration Commissioner Stump for being a stowaway on board the steamer Remembrance, which arrived at Sparrows Point, from Daiquiri. She was liberated.

She was accompanied by her husband, who had been a passenger on board the Remembrance as one of the crew. Boggs proved that he was an American citizen, and as his wife was the spouse of a citizen she received her freedom. The two left the immigration offices and disappeared as mysteriously as the wife had hid in the hold of the vessel.

The Remembrance steamed from Daiquiri after taking on a cargo of iron ore. Boggs had signed as one of the crew at Colon, Panama, and it is thought that he then assisted his wife aboard the vessel and secreted her in the hold.

The vessel was two days out from Daiquiri when Mrs. Boggs appeared on deck, and Captain Nesbitt was at a loss for words to ask whence she had come. When men are found on board vessels illegally they are forced to scrub decks and do other arduous labod, but Mrs. Boggs walked the decks throughout the voyage, watched the crew work and enjoyed the salt air of the Atlantic.

NO ESCAPE FROM DUTY.

Court Finds Way to Avoid Jury Duty Objection.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 13.—Judge Orbison, of superior court, room 1, discovered a new way yesterday to induce his acquaintances and friends to cease trying to have their friends released from jury duty. A jury had been summoned to hear a damage suit. Men were asking releases for various reasons, and the court was having trouble to retain them without ill feeling.

A man who is well acquainted with the court appeared and said a friend of his named William Baxter, of Perry township, had been summoned.

"Would it be possible to let him off?"

"Sure it will," Judge Orbison replied. "He will be excused immediately, but you must serve in his place."

The friend who had interceded, with a stammered excuse that he would return in a few minutes left the courtroom and shortly afterward Baxter appeared.

One man excused by Judge Orbison obtained his release on the plea that the meat in his market would spoil if he had to stay. He had no one to help him, and he had to close his business while he went to court.

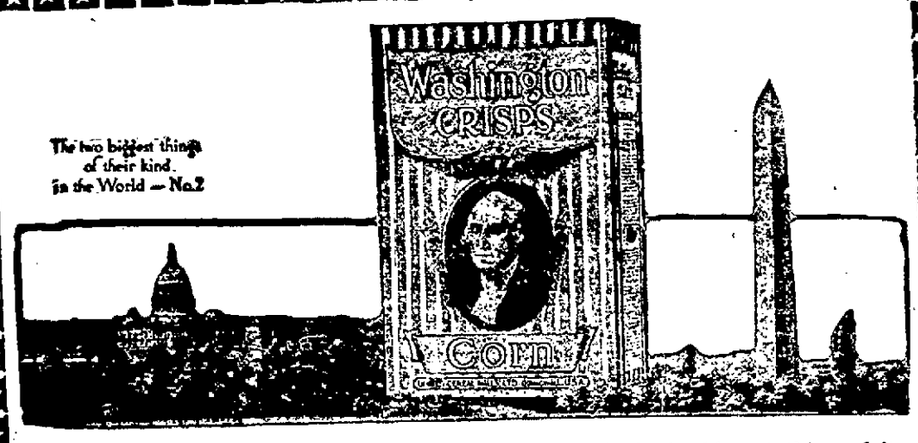
ALLEGES HEAVY SHORTAGE.

Leader Says Money Is Missing From Cemetery Fund.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 13.—A charge that thousands of dollars is missing from the cemetery fund was made by Mrs. Lewis J. Cox at a meeting of the Civic league. Mrs. Cox, who was president of the league at one time, said that a sufficient number of lots had been sold to bring about $500,000 into the treasury, but that there was only about $50,000 on hand. Bad management is charged by her, and she says it is due to Highland Lawn cemetery being in the hands of politicians.

The charge made by Mrs. Cox was brought about by the indorsement of an ordinance passed by the council transferring the cemetery funds and management of the cemeteries from the board of public works to a board of regents. The ordinance had been vetoed by Mayor Gerhardt and it was about to be passed over his veto by the council when the charge was made.

R. B. Stimson, who assisted in preparing the ordinance, said that Mrs. Cox was right in her statements, but the board of works declares the records account for all money received and spent.



THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT, Washington, D. C., is the biggest thing of its kind in the world, being 555 feet high—so high that when one looks out of the windows at the apex, upon people walking in the streets below, they look like black ants. The monument is the mecca of millions of Americans when visiting the National Capitol. The big package of Washington Crisps is, likewise, the biggest thing of its kind in the world:

USED POISONED GUM.

Wealthy Farmer Victim of Western Gamblers.

Spokane, Wash., May 13.—Sticks of poisoned gum and a draft for $10,500 figured prominently in the preliminary hearing of R. B. Dean and William King, at the end of which they were held under bonds of $5,000 to the superior court on the charge of gambling.

H. A. Brainard, a wealthy farmer of Garwood, Idaho, testified that he faintly recalls that after he had chewed a piece of gum given to him by one of the defendants, he signed a draft for $10,500, which was to be bet on a horse race and which was to return him a fabulous sum.

Brainard said his next recollection was of finding himself and his two companions in the hands of the police, who had been called by the proprietor of a rooming house where the transaction is said to have occurred.

King posed, it is said, as a big race track operator from Butte, Mont.

REMARRIES IN 15 MINUTES.

Loses Little Time After Getting a Divorce.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 13.—A divorce was granted to Mrs. Sylvia Page Guess by Judge Carter in Superior court, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Five minutes later she got a license to marry from Deputy County Clerk Koerner, and in another ten minutes she had crossed Delaware street, made her way to Justice of the Peace Manning's office and had been married to John Thomas Kirby.

Mrs. Kirby was divorced once before, in 1899. She married James Guess in 1910. He filed complaint for divorce, in which he alleged that she had treated him "mean." The divorce was granted on her cross-complaint, in which it was alleged that Guess had been guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment, abandonment and neglect. Kirby also had been married before, and had been divorced. He is thirty-six and she is thirty-seven years old.

AWAY WITH CATARRH A FILTHY DSIEASE

A Common Sense Treatment Quickly Relieves All Distressing Symptoms.

NO MORE BAD BREATH

If you have any symptoms of catarrh, such as stuffed up feeling in the head, profuse discharge from the nose, phlegm in the throat, causing hawking and spitting, dull pain in the head, or ringing in the ears, just anoint the nostrils or rub the throat or chest with a little Ely's Cream Balm, and see how quickly you will get relief.

In just a few minutes you will feel your head clearing, and after using the Balm for a day or so the nasty discharge will be checked, the pain, soreness and fever will be gone, and you will no longer be offensive to yourself and friends by your constant hawking, spitting and blowing.

Shake off the grip of catarrh before it impairs your sense of taste, smell and hearing and poisons your whole system. In a short time you can be cured of this distressing disease by using Ely's Cream Balm. This healing, antiseptic Balm does not fool you with short, deceptive relief, but completely overcomes the disease. It clears the nose, head and throat of all the rank poison, soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, and makes you proof against catarrh.

One application will convince you, and a fifty cent bottle will generally effect a complete cure. Get it from your druggist and start the treatment at once. Meyer Bros. Co.

BASEBALL ATHLETICS

PAIGE PICKED A PREMIER HURLER

Responsible for Ed Walsh and Other Great Men of Base Ball.

HE TELLS HIS STORY

Sharon, Pa., May 13.—About a dozen of the best baseball players who have made good in big leagues, some of them rated as the best in the business, can credit their rise in baseball to Manager Fred Paige, owner of the Sharon Giants of the O.-P. league. Paige is not given to telling his past achievements, but he was in a reminiscent mood the other day and a little cirt with him brought forth the following:

"It was some years ago, as you no doubt are aware," said Paige, "that I became associated with the game. After trying my hand at playing for awhile, I took up the managerial reins of a club in a minor league in Maine and ever since have been connected with these clubs in different sections of the country.

"While in Maine, I ran across Sockalexis, the Indian who played such sensational ball in right field for Cleveland several years ago. After signing him I sent him to a club for seasoning and later played him with the Holy Cross college team at Worcester, Mass. There he pitched and played the outfield. His work was of such high order that it attracted the attention of major league managers, and it wasn't long before Cleveland signed him. Sockalexis was one of the greatest outfielders I ever saw, and it is to be regretted that his career as a player was shortened by his habits.

"What I considered my greatest piece of luck was corraling Ed Walsh, the iron pitcher of the Chicago White Sox. I ran across him at Wilkesbarre, Pa., while on a scouting trip. He came to the hotel where I was stopping and said he wanted a chance to show what he could do in the pitching line. Walsh, who was a coal miner, was roughly dressed, but he impressed me with his earnestness. I signed him on the spot at his own terms, $50 a month.

"At that time my friend, Walter Burnham, was managing the Newark (N. J.) club. He had plenty of pitchers, but I prevailed upon him to take Walsh. Walsh was as green as you generally find them and was only a fair curve ball pitcher. But he had plenty of steam and ambition. He was placed with the Meriden club and came to the front rapidly. Burnham recalled him, and it was while he was twirling for the Paterson club that Walsh developed the "spit" ball that has made his name famous wherever baseball is played.

"The Chicago Americans grabbed Walsh, and, well, every fan knows what has happened. By the way, I see the White Sox are riding in front in the American league race today. As usual, Walsh is a big factor in keeping them there.

"Yes, there are other players, quite a few of them, that I either recommended to the majors, where they made good, or started with my own clubs. Notable among them was the late Mike Powers, who caught for Connie Mack's Athletics, one of the cleverest mask men in the history of the game. Andy Coakley, the former National league pitcher, is another. There also was Jimmie Barrett, who made a name for himself while playing the outfield for the Cincinnati club. Then there is Kroh, a former Chicago Cub twirler; Cy Seymour, and the late Ed Doheney, star left hand twirlers; Mickey Corcoran and others not so well known in the baseball world, but good earnest players in their respective leagues.

LINDSAY MAY BE RELEASED.

Southpaw Said to Be Slated for Tinware at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 13.—Pitcher Pat Lindsay, the local southpaw, is said to be due for release. Lindsay has not shown consistent form since 1910 when he aided the South Bend team so materially in winning the Central league pennant of that year. Smith, Essick, Bowman, Martin and Myers appear likely to form the regular flinging staff. If Lindsay does not display more effect shortly he will probably be shunted to some smaller league or released outright.

TOLEDO RELEASES HAAS.

Cost the Club $750 But He Did Not Show the Proper Form.

Bert Haas, who played first base for the old Lima team of the Interstate league, and who also tried out with Dayton, has recently been released by the Toledo club. He was purchased from Worcester, Mass., but didn't show calibre for the American association.

PRESENT MANAGER IS A LEADER IN ALL DEPARTMENTS OF GAME.

FRANK J. SHAUGHNESSY.

In spite of the fact that the Fort Wayne club is lower in the standing of the Central league that it has ever been in its connection with the organization, the first few weeks of play have demonstrated that in Frank J. Shaughnessy the club has a pilot amply capable of steering the craft and he has inspired so much confidence that fandom generally has faith in his ability to send his team ahead in the race as soon as he gets a new pitcher or two, or as soon as the present staff gets into form.

A summary of his work during the first series on the home lot shows that in thirty-five times at bat he made twenty-one hits for a total of twenty-six bases, scored eight runs, drove nine in with his batting and had an average of .600 in eight full games and a part of the ninth, which was called on account of rain.

He stole ten bases, registered two sacrifices and handled nineteen fielding chances without a bobble. Some of his fielding was sensational and his exhibition demonstrated that he is able to lead his men in all departments of the game. Of course, he will not hold his .600 average all season. He will fall down at bat when runs are needed, will make errors and do the other things common to baseball, but when the season closes he will be among the leaders in batting, base running and fielding, barring accidents.

His players swear by him. He has the knack of instructing them without incurring their ill will, he never embarrasses a player by calling his attention to misplays before the spectators or before the members of the club and the pitchers are falling down on him simply because there is something radically wrong with their conditioning. Every one of them feels keenly his inability to pitch winning ball and this is born of a desire to serve the manager who is working patiently with them.

"Shag" Shaughnessy holds a degree from Notre Dame university that entitles him to practice law. He obtained it by hard study and he has given the same study to baseball. He entered the game as a means of making a living. He found he got ready returns and good returns, better perhaps than from a practice that would have required several years to build up.

He started into the game and he gave it all his attention. He works just as hard now and is constantly endeavoring to figure some new play of offense or defense and is not content to follow the styles that have been set in the game. He is intelligent, temperate and genial and it will take a mighty hard break in luck to keep his club down in the Central league race.

RAIN GIVES THE CENTRAL A BLOW

Two Sunday Postponements Early in Season Cut Down Receipts.

PLAN A DOUBLE BILL

Rain hit the Central league a hard blow yesterday when it butted in on the schedule and prevented games scheduled at Terre Haute, Grand Rapids and Wheeling.

It was the second visitation of the same kind inflicted on Owner Claude H. Varnell, who lost his first Sunday of the year at South Bend and who was euchred out of a nice split on gate receipts at Terre Haute yesterday.

The Tots has just closed a successful series with Dayton and was to have added at least two and possible four newmen to its roster. This would have drawn a big crowd when it is taken into consideration that the club had been winning and is in third place in the standing, an elevation seldom attained by a Terre Haute club in its Central league history.

Word comes today that a double bill will be staged if the grounds are dry enough and if not two games will be played tomorrow and the third game of the series postponed until the next visit of the club.

Wheeling also suffered. Edward J. Anderson and Everett Robinson, his new partner, have had a pretty hard time getting started in their new venture and the loss of a Sunday game hit them pretty hard and at a time when they are least able to stand it. Players' salaries will be due this week and while they will undoubtedly be paid money that would have gone into the treasury, yesterday was anticipated for liquidating this big item of expense.

Owners of all the teams count on the first three or four Sundays of the season as the best of the year. They are not always the most profitable because later when the real battle for the championship narrows down to two or three clubs the contestants are certain of good crowds, but the teams that fall into the second division in the latter part of the year are the ones that feel most keenly the losses of the early part of the year.

Manager Shaughnessy is still shifting his pitchers about in an effort to frame a winning combination. He sent Valliere home Saturday and ordered Vinch Roth, the Cleveland left-hander, to report at Terre Haute and may try him out there or at Springfield.

CRAWFORD DID A BRISK BUSINESS

Sold Whisky on Sunday and Will Do Fifty Days in County Jail.

HE DENIED THE STORY

Eugene "Brick" Crawford did a little bootlegging on his own account yesterday and business was brisk until the police landed on him at Grand and Harrison streets and took him and Pat McAnenny into custody. In the city court today he went over for thirty days with a $10 fine attached after he had denied emphatically that he sold or handled any whisky at all.

McAnenny said that he met Crawford on Grand street yesterday morning and asked him if he could get some whisky. "Brick" said he could and a dollar was given him. He turned the corner of Grand at Harrison, was gone a few minutes and returned with two half pints. Later he got two more and was arrested.

He denied the story told by McAnenny and said that he had nothing to drink yesterday but a bottle of beer he bought Saturday night. The fellow who accused him of selling the liquor was positive in his identification and the police are of opinion that a saloon in the vicinity of Grand and Harrison street tilted the lid. McAnenny was charged with public intoxication but was let go.

Crawford was sweated by the police before police court and Deputy Prosecutor Callahan gave him a workout on the witness stand, but he stuck to the story that he had not bought, sold or given away any whisky yesterday.

Tried to Corner It.

John Reese came up from Decatur with a jag and a lot of whisky and he bought some more when he got here and gave it away to whoever asked for it. He was arrested with Frank Parker and Pete Morrison yesterday, but all denied they had bought any liquor on Sunday. Reese was fined $5 and costs and the others were let go.

Charles Sargent was held until May 16 and in the meantime Detective-Sergeant Immel will try to find out the owner of a camera that was found in his possession. It was stolen from a suitcase.

Of the plain drunks John Sheets, Fred Anderson, John Kirley and John Gruber were let go. George Mack, Pat Welch and Charles Reed were fined $1 and costs each and Alex Dempsey was fined $5.

John Stagner, arrested Saturday with a revolver in one of his pockets, was fined $15 and costs and went to jail.

The case of petit larceny filed against Bill Knepper was dismissed.

RICHESON BEARS UP WELL.

Condemned Minister Withstands Ordeal of the Alienists.

Boston, May 113.—"Richeson seems to be standing up well under the alienist ordeal," said the former minister's counsel, William A. Morse, upon leaving the Charles street jail today after his customary morning call upon the man condemned to die next week for the murder of Avis Linnell.

Sheriff Quinn announced today that Richeson would not be removed to the chamber in the state prison, where he will await death until after the meeting of the council on Wednesday "to give the alienists a chance to resume their examination under the same conditions as those of yesterday and Saturday."

Church Opposes Charge for Special Sermons and Lectures.

TWO MAY BE RETIRED

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—That bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church who charge for special sermons and lectures when they receive each year a salary of $5,000 and traveling expenses may receive a "slap" from the general conference before the session closes is indicated by several memorials on the subject which have been presented to the committee on episcopacy.

It is claimed by those behind the memorials that the salary of the bishops is sufficient and that in many cases the price for the lectures or sermons are so exorbitant that the poorer churches which need a bishop's presence most are unable to pay for it.

It is rumored that the episcopacy committee, as a compromise between the two factions, will recommend the retirement of two bishops at the present session. Copenhagen, Denmark, may receive an episcopal residence, according to talk among the delegates. The episcopacy committee is said to have voted in favor of establishing a residence at Rome, Italy, and probably one at Hamburg, Geermany.

The committee also is said to have favored the retention of the episcopal residence at St. Paul, instead of removing it to Minneapolis, which is said to have been favored by a sub-committee.

There were dolls fifty, forty and twenty-five years old. One old doll weighed 225 pounds, one was three and a half feet high. One was one and a half inches long and lived in a button box. One doll had come down the fire escape at the school house. Another doll, thirty-nine years old, had been in a cyclone. The doll census was taken by two school girls.

SPARROW IS NEW FOOD PRODUCT

Fine as Quail Buttered and Served on Toast.

A GOVERNMENT HINT

Washington, May 13.—"Eat sparrows; when boned, broiled, buttered and served on toast they are as fine as quail."

This is the latest advice of Uncle Sam to help his nephews and nieces reduce the high cost of living.

The department of agriculture has issued a comprehensive pamphlet on the English sparrow, condemning him as a harmful pest, and concluding with a number of recipes for his preparation for the kitchen. Most of the pamphlet is devoted to demonstrating the harmfulness of sparrows and telling how to kill them.

Do More Harm Than Good.

"English sparrows," says the report, are noisy, filthy and destructive. They drive native birds from villages and from homesteads. Though they are occasionally valuable as destroyers of noxious insects, all things considered, they do far more harm than good. Practical methods of dealing with them include destruction of their nests, shooting, trapping and poisoning. Of these trapping is unquestionably the best. English sparrows are good to eat and their use as food is recommended because of their nutritive value and as a means of reducing their numbers."

In specifying methods of preparation for the kitchen, the bulletin gives the following directions for dressing the little culprits:

"Cut off the legs, the wings at the outer joint and neck close to the body; strip off the skin, beginning at the neck; make a cut through the body wall extending from the neck along the backbone till the ribs are severed, then around between the legs to the tail, and remove the viscera. Sparrows may be cooked by any one of the methods employed for reed bird and quail."

RATS REPRODUCE PRISON STRIPES

Bread in Kentucky Prison Show Markings of Garments.

TESTS BY A CONVICT

Frankfort, Ky., May 12.—Prenatal influence has been the study of scientists for ages, and many wonderful results have been recorded, but the most remarkable case known has come to light in this city. White rates striped with brown have been bred at the penitentiary here by Newton Trusty, a convict, and the association of the rats with convicts wearing striped colors, the body of the clothes being white and the stripes brown, is believed to account for these freak rats.

Trusty was sent to the penitentiary years ago for murder, and was to have served a life sentence. Hope of securing a parole or pardon caused him to study out some method of making money while in the prison, and he decided to breed white rats and sell them. He had been conducting the rat breeding farm within the prison walls for years before the first white rat striped with brown made its appearance.

It was sold, and then the same female gave birth to another litter of striped rats, which laid the foundation for the freak rats, which were good enough sellers to earn Trusty a snug sum of money, so that when he was paroled recently he had money enough to go to his native county and buy a farm.

FATAL STREET BATTLE.

Wife of Kentucky Marshal Dies in Effort to Shield Husband.

Jellico, Ky., May 13.—Fifteen minutes of battle and bedlam following upon the attempt of Marshal Tom Bowlin to arrest a promiscuous shooter yesterday afternoon, resulted in the death of the marshal's wife and Wiley Parton, the shooter, and the serious injury of at least three others. Twenty-five persons were involved in the battle and at least 150 shots were fired.

When Marshal Bowlin and Parton opened fire on each other, Mrs. Bowlin sprang in front of her husband. Shot twice, she fell to the ground dead. The shooting appeared then to become general. When the smoke cleared away Parton was lying dead, shot through the chest, and friends were seen bearing away his wounded father, Wesley Parton. Al Butcher, who supported the marshal, had a bullet hole in his neck and may die, while Al Bowlin, brother of the marshal, was clubbed on the head with a revolver butt.

Adding to the excitement the marshal, when he found his wife was dead, is said to have essayed to shoot himself, though a friend knocked his revolver from his hand.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

NO SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

Central Passenger Association Has Probably Settled That Fact.

B. OF L. E. PROGRAM FOR THIS WEEK

Pennsylvania Establishes an Industrial Agency at Pittsburg.

The fate of the Sunday excursions on roads under the jurisdiction of the Central Passenger association has probably been definitely settled, and while the agents at the various ticket offices in the city say they have received no recent information as to the decision of the association, which held a meeting in Chicago last week to take some action in the matter, it is said that no excursions will be run this season by the roads in this territory.

Every season the railroads in this section have always run excursions to Ningara Falls, Mackinac island and to various points along the eastern seaboard. In addition it has been the custom to run Sunday excursions. These excursions will be tabooed this season.

It is claimed by the railroads that there is little real profit in running excursions. The excursion trains, in a way, tie up fast freight traffic, which is the most valuable source of revenue to the railroads. For these reasons the excursions are to be declared off for this season.

CREATES INDUSTRIAL AGENCY.

In order better to promote industrial activities the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg have created an industrial agency with Ralph W. Cooke in charge as industrial agent. His office will be in Union station, Pittsburg. In today's announcement of the appointment of an industrial agent, the railroad says:

"The territory contiguous to the system is rich in natural resources, including coal, natural gas, limestone and clay. The farming lands of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana are among the most productive in the United States and intensive agriculture is rapidly finding favor because of the abundant markets and the resulting increased profits to the farmer. While this is already a rich manufacturing territory, these natural advantages of raw material and soil furnish a basis for still further development of diversified manufacture.

"In order to aid those interested and facilitate their investigations, the industrial agent will furnish data regarding available factory sites, manufacturing buildings and warehouses, with names of owners, prices, local conditions, and freight rates on raw materials and finished products. He will give information as to the facilities and service of the Pennsylvania lines and will render any other assistance possible.

"The company desires the co-operation of chambers of commerce and other trades organizations along its lines and invites correspondence from such organizations, as well as from firms or individuals seeking information for purposes of location."

WEEK'S B. OF L. E. PROGRAM.

The first week's session of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Grand International Auxiliary at Harrisburg, Pa., witnessed the transaction of some very important business, notably the indorsement of the employes' liability act. The program issued provides for entertainment of the delegates until May 30, Memorial day. An outline of the current week's program is as follows: Tonight—The third degree of the Order of Knights of Columbus will be conferred at the Board of Trade auditorium, to which all visiting members of the order were invited. Tuesday—Entertainment by O. R. C. and Ladies' Auxiliary at Chestnut street hall, 8 p. m.; K. of C. grand ball and reception. Wednesday—Ritual work of G. I. A. to B. of L. E. to be exemplified in Studio hall. Thursday—B. of R. T. lodges will give vaudeville entertainment at Chestnut street hall, 8 p. m. Friday—Memorial service held by G. I. A. to B. of L. E. in Studio hall. Saturday—The Pennsylvania Railroad company will tender the delegates and visitors an excursion to Washington, D. C.

SUCCESSFUL FISHERMAN.

Frank Druhot, the popular moulder at the Bass foundry, was among the many fishermen at Rome City yesterday and it is needless to mention that he was one of the most successful anglers and landed a magnificent collection of the finny tribe. Among his catch were a number of magnificent specimens of "rock" bass, which Mr. Druhot took particular pleasure in exhibiting to his many friends on the train en route home. The boys on the cylinder floor at the foundry were treated to a mess of "rock" bass today; at any rate, Mr. Druhot will no doubt treat them to such within the next few days.

The accident occurred in April two years ago.

MOTOR CARS FOR LINEMEN.

Just Like the Bible.

Niles, who is 10 years old, has a weakness for attending the circus, and he willingly goes to church with his mother when the circus season approaches and doesn't hesitate to point to his Sabbath rectitude as one of the reasons why he should be permitted to go to the circus.

When the circus came this week he filed his regular petition for permission to attend.

"You have seen the circus three times, Niles," said his mother, "and I don't believe you need to see it again."

"Well, mother," he answered, "I think a circus is a lot like the Bible; you can't get too much of it."

The afternoon performance found Niles and his mother looking on.

A Doubtful Compliment.

Edward J. Watkins, is in a quandary over a statement made to him at the Pendennis club. He does not know whether to be flattered or offended.

At the club, a negro boy as black as a shoe, is in charge of the check room, and while taking Watkins' hat and coat, he cast an admiring glance at Mr. Watkins's new gray suit, and said: "Mr. Watkins, that's the best looking suit I see this year. I'd like to buy some of your clo'es, sir, sometimes if you got any you'd dispose of. You dress more to a nigger's taste than any other gentleman at the club; yessir."

The Likeness.

Mrs. Newed—I suppose now we have disagreed, you are comparing this to your old home.

Mr. Newed—Exactly. This is just like the rows mother used to make.

BUILDING FOOD

To Bring the Babies Around.

When a little human machine (or a large one) goes wrong, nothing is so important as the selection of food to bring it around again.

"My little baby boy fifteen months old had pneumonia, then came brain fever, and no sooner had he got over these than he began to cut teeth and, being so weak, he was frequently thrown into convulsions," says a Colorado mother.

"I decided a change might help, so took him to Kansas City for a visit. When we got there he was so very weak when he would cry he would sink away and seemed like he would die.

"When I reached my sister's home she said immediately that we must feed him Grape-Nuts and, although I had never used the food, we got some and for a few days just gave him the juice of Grape-Nuts and milk. He got stronger so quickly we were soon feeding him the Grape-Nuts itself and in a wonderfully short time he fattened right up and became strong and well.

"That showed me something worth knowing and, when later on my little girl came, I raised her on Grape-Nuts and she is a strong, healthy baby and has been. You will see from the little photograph I send you what a strong, chubby youngster the boy is now, but he didn't look anything like that before we found this nourishing food. Grape-Nuts nourished him back to strength when he was so weak he couldn't keep any other food on his stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

All children can be built to a more sturdy and healthy condition upon Grape-Nuts and cream. The food contains the elements nature demands, from which to make the soft gray filling in the nerve centers and brain. A well fed brain and strong, sturdy nerves absolutely insure a healthy body.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

WILL COUNCIL'S ACTION PRESERVE HARMER'S FORD?

Alarming the Indians in the town, they attacked the troops on the left, across the Maumee. The whites in attempting to repel the attack by crossing a ford—since known as Harmer's ford, were met with a terrible fire and suffered a bloody defeat.

4—Ever since that day, the ground made famous as the point from which the men of General Harmer attempted to cross into the Indian village has been unoccupied. It has passed through several successive ownerships. Recently it was purchased as a probable site for a new foundry building.

5—For several years the members of the Mary Penrose Wayne chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, supported by other patriotic citizens, have considered the purchase of the site and a suitable marker or monument. The new purchaser says that he does not know when he will erect his foundry, inasmuch as he purposes to continue to occupy his present site until such time as the Nickel Plate railroad, to whom it belongs, tells him to move. The purchase of the east end site was for the purpose of protecting himself when the time came to secure a new location. It is conveniently situated on the Nickel Plate road. He paid $2,000 for the property, it is said. It is two acres in area.

6—Last April the Daughters of the American Revolution presented a petition to the city council in which they called attention to "an act passed by the last legislature, entitled 'An act to perpetuate battle grounds and other historic sites,' and called attention to the fact that the city council has the power to acquire this property by eminent domain." The petition asks the council to secure this property for the city before any buildings can be erected thereon.

7—Lying directly east of the proposed site of the monument is a stretch of beautiful ground along the bank of the Maumee, which it is planned to convert into a park. Many residents of the ward in which this piece of ground is located are heartily in favor of the securing of the monument site, especially when it is contemplated that a foundry adjoining the park site would be undesirable.

8—It is expected the city council will take definite action Tuesday night of this week on this important matter. The Sentinel believes that the steps should be taken to acquire this property and use it for the purpose indicated.

WHY MAN EXCELS AT GOLF

Woman Lacks the Active Physical Training Which Her Brother Gets in Boyhood.

If you were asked why men play better golf than women your answer probably would be: because men are stronger than women. And that would be the truth, but only part of it.

Possibly the difference in the effectiveness of the woman's and the man's game can, as some people claim, be traced directly to the length of the shot, but the more one investigates the more he is led to qualify this conclusion. It becomes, on the whole, less reasonable to credit solely to muscular advantage the eight to nine strokes which, roughly, measure the handicap due from a man to a woman. In other words, if a man and a woman should happen to have an equal supply of strength and endurance, it seems that the man would turn out to be the better golfer. That is the question.

In the first place, men have far greater game experience. They begin to play bat and ball games at an earlier age and thereby develop more thoroughly the "feel" of clubs and the fine eye that is necessary for success in such games. There are all sorts of games that boys amuse themselves with from their earliest youth which give them eye. And when they take a golf club in their hands for the first time the essential act of concentrating their vision on the object to be struck is not a novelty. It is second nature.

With a girl it is different. She has not daily played games that developed her eye, such as marbles, "scrub," hockey, snowballing and target practice, games that are the constant avocations of bipeds who practice the profession of being boys. And yet one of the greatest of women golfers assures me that women have shown in tournaments more concentration of the eye than men and that only last fall this fact was proved. It appears that a computation was made both at the men's championship and the women's which proved that the women missed their drives less often than the men.—Charles Alden Seltzer in the Outing Magazine.

First Rook to Talk.

In New street, Horsham, England, says a writer in the May Strand, there is to be seen the very exceptional and interesting spectacle of a talking rook. The bird is the property of two school children, a little girl and boy, who caught it five years ago, when it was quite a baby, in a local rookery. It is of the gentler sex, and occupies a small pen in a tiny back garden. No attempt has ever been made to teach the rook to talk, and yet she has a vocabulary of close upon 100 simple words. She is often allowed out in the garden, for, although she can fly swiftly and strongly, she can be trusted not to make her escape. It is said that this is the first instance of a rook developing the power to talk.

Drawn for Lehman's Clothing House.

News Item: At a theater in Burgetstown, Pa., the other day a mind reader was giving a performance, requesting the audience to ask questions. One man asked her to have the woman in front of him remove her hat, whereupon the woman in question drew a revolver and forced him to go to jail.

This man should have been gifted with second sight to see through that hat, but it takes no second sight to see the quality and attractiveness of our clothes. They sell on first sight.

LOVERS WED BUT NOT EACH OTHER

Separated by Quarrel, Meet in Marriage License Office.

GIVES BEST WISHES

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—A sweetheart's quarrel of a year ago was smoothed over and broken friendship repaired in the marriage license office at Clayton yesterday when John J. Furst, of 3325 Hickory street, and Miss Jeanette Forster, of 3987 Sarpy street, one-time sweethearts, were married, but not to each other.

Mr. Furst was married to Miss Marie Ruehling, of 1015 California avenue, by Justice A. H. Werremeyer, while the Rev. John Score, pastor of the Clayton Methodist church, performed the ceremony for Miss Forster and Clarence A. Travers, of 2426 Bacon street.

The coincidence that brought the two couples to the same marriage license office at the same time surprised but did not reconcile them. As they met Miss Forster exclaimed "Oh," while "What are you doing here?" burst from her former suitor. Then they recalled the quarrel.

When the documents finally were presented Miss Forster and Mr. Furst exclaimed simultaneously, "Congratulations!" and "Well, I wish you joy." Then they introduced their fiance and fiancee, respectively.

A week after the quarrel, Mr. Furst says, he met Miss Ruehling. About the same time Miss Forster and Mr. Travers became acquainted. The two brides gave their ages as eighteen years and their husbands said they were twenty-one years old each.

Attorney John W. Hanan, of Lagrange, was a guest at the Anthony Sunday night. He is enoute to Indianapolis on legal business.

PRIEST SAID THE LAST RITES

Mr. N. O. Ford, who owns and conducts a printing house at 1716 Everett St., Alameda, called Sept. 15th to give us the following: Two months before he was asked to witness the signing of a will by a dying person. A San Francisco attorney was reading the will as he entered. Ford learned that the patient had Bright's Disease and expected to live but a few days. He saw the feet and ankles. They were swollen to huge proportions, nearly six inches through at the ankles, and the legs had turned black from the knees down. She had been sleeping sitting up; could not lie down due to the dropsy. The priest had been called and it was believed she would not survive till Sunday. Ford told about Fulton's Renal Compound and urged the patient's sister to get it. It was sent for.

Three days later Ford 'phoned to ask how the patient was. The sister replied she was growing worse. Ford urged her to continue the treatment, said that sometimes it was slow.

The day Ford called, Sept. 15th, he stated the patient was in the yard making preparations to return to her country home, that the swelling had gone down, limbs were normal, and other than the sores left by the bursting dropsy the patient was feeling well and happy.

Not all these last-minute cases recover, but that some do should give patients hope.

FIANCEE REFUSES TO GIVE UP HER LOVER, ACCUSED OF MURDER.

CAROLINE BERLINER.

In Lynn, Mass., the police are rapidly weaving the net of evidence which they claim will prove that William A. Dorr, of Stockson, Cal., shot and killed George E. Marsh, for years Lynn's wealthiest citizen. His body was found a short time ago on a marsh just outside of Lynn. The police claim that Dorr did the killing because he inherited Marsh's wealth through an aunt, who had willed all to him.

While Dorr, practically on the verge of insanity, sits weeping in his cell, Miss Caroline Berlinger, his fiancee, refuses to believe him guilty and declares that she will stick by him to the end.

"I have hardly recovered from the shock of the news of this unfortunate affair," she said. "I must beg to be excused from having anything to say. Whatever there was between Mr. Dorr and myself concerns us alone, and not the public."

"Has the engagement between you been broken off?" was asked.

"Not to my knowledge," replied the young woman. "I cannot say anything further than that I prefer to let matters take their course. Time will tell.

"I have had no word from him. I can give no information whatever. I have told all there is to tell the police."

Circus Time Again

Howe's London Much Bigger—The Glasgow Horses Also Coming.

The great London aggregation of colossal and renowned features will be in Fort Wayne Friday, May 17. Acrobats from the Old World and the new; giants, pigmies, beasts of the wildest forests of the world; strange birds and daring bareback riders.

Circus day comes around about right. A fellow gets old during the winter. Notes fall due; things must be attended to; life looks serious any way one looks at it. A thousand things press down upon the mind until the head aches. Wrinkles grow deep during the winter, and the hair borrows a tinge from the frosts. It's different circus day. You're a boy again—or ought to be.

The $25,000 Glasgow Prize Horses are also with Howe's London Show this season. Beauties say the critics everywhere.

BROTHERS SIDE BY SIDE IN JAIL

Put There by Half Brother Who is Officer of the Law.

BOTH FOR FELONY

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—Merril P. Level, a teller at the All Day and All Night bank, and his younger brother, Ellis Level, are occupying cells in the city jail. They were landed there through the efforts of their half-brother, Policeman John Level, who tracked them to St. Louis. Merril had robbed the bank of $5,000, and Ellis, to whom he had turned over the money, had in turn robbed the teller.

This was the story told the police tonight by Merril Level. It was corroborated by his half-brother, John, who is a cousin of Chief of Police Sebastian. Ellis, however, denied that he knew that the money was stolen and declared that Merril had told him it comprised the amount he had received for his house and his winnings on the Attel-Kilbane fight. Ellis admitted that he had appropriated a part of it.

In his confession to the police Merril Level declared that on the night of April 9 Ellis came to his window in the bank and he turned over to him a package containing $2,600. Then he used a hue and cry. He told the bank officers that a sneak thief had reached into the cage and stolen the money while he was out of the cage momentarily. The bank officers said the package contained $5,000. Continuing his confession, Merril said he had instructed Ellis to deposit the money in another bank, but the latter had "skipped" to St. Louis, their former home. He followed him after securing a leave of absence on the plea that his mother was very ill.

Policeman Level followed the brothers to St. Louis, but Ellis eluded him and returned to Los Angeles, where he was located by his half-brother, who returned with Merril.

The young teller had been employed by the bank for three years. He declared that he first stole to pay for an operation for his wife. Then, he said, he lost $600 through accepting worthless checks from friends. He tried to recoup this loss by betting on the Attell-Kilbane fight, he said, but lost.

One thousand dollars of the loot was recovered by Policeman Level from the younger brother. Each of the two brothers blames the other, and Merril's wife, when told of his arrest, said there must be "some mistake." Merril has also two children.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effectual and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

During the years 1882-1895, when the German grain duties were high, the agricultural population of Germany decreased by 724,000, notwithstanding a large increase in the total population. Emigration greatly increased, but fell immediately on the subsequent reduction of the tariff.

Preacher Says Vice Regulations Will Steep in Sin.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 13.—A typewritten copy of the rules of the Indianapolis police department for governing immoral resorts was thrown to the floor and trampled underfoot by the Rev. Ernest A. Bell, of Chicago, who spoke at the opening session of the "purity conference," held at Tomlinson hall under the auspices of the Indiana State Civic union.

Copies of these rules, bearing the title "The Shame of the State of Indiana," had been distributed among the leaders of the World's Purity federation, who are here to assist in the campaign for the elimination of houses of vice in Indianapolis. Mr. Bell is superintendent of the midnight mission in Chicago and is prominent in the international movement to abolish the "white slave" traffic.

"We think we are christian people," said Mr. Bell. "We are not yet fully civilized and christianized. One hundred years from now investigators of social conditions will dig up these twelve rules drawn up by the Indianapolis authorities for the ruin of boys and girls, for steeping them in sin and degredation, for giving them disease, and finally furnishing them their coffins, and the investigators will stand aghast at such rules. They will also be astonished at the conditions revealed by the report of the vice commission in Chicago."

BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST

A Simple Remedy Beautifies the Hair, Cures Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair.

KEEPS SCALP CLEAN

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days treatment. Special Agents, Meyer Bros Co.

NEEDED GOLD TO WORK THE CHARM

Now Seer is Missing and Victims Await Return of Their Wealth.

SOME INDIANA NEWS

Indianapolis, May 13.—Dr. Frederick W. Grandon, a clairvoyant, is missing from his expensive suit of offices here and more than 100 of his patrons, mostly women, are moaning the loss of $10 and $20 gold pieces, which they had given the seer for charms. Grandon professed to be able to advise his patrons in all love affairs, domestic matters, business deals, travels, hidden treasures, etc., but first must be given a "charm." The woman who swore to a warrant for Grandon's arrest Saturday said she had taken the last money she had to a bank and exchanged it for a $20 gold piece to give the clairvoyant. Most of Grandon's patrons were among the working classes.

The police say they have been unable to get any trace of Grandon or his assistant, who disappeared through a rear exit while the women waited in the front room for the seer to appear.

Hoover was arrested. Hoover is employed in Montezuma but his family live here and he was called home by the death of his daughter. According to the police he had been drinking, and when Kendall remonstrated, he cut him about the face with a knife. The trouble occurred in the room adjoining the one containing the corpse. PIPE SETS FARMER AFIRE.

Kenmare, N. D., May 13.—John Peterson, a farmer, residing near here, was nearly burned to death when his clothes caught fire from ashes in his pipe, which he had thrust into his coat pocket while riding horseback.

A high wind was blowing, and when Peterson discovered his clothing was on fire he jumped to the ground and began rolling on the grass in an effort to extinguish the blaze. In this manner he ignited the dead grass. Finally the man succeeded in reaching a nearby farm-house, where he was given medical aid.

WILEY DECLARES HE IS NOW HAPPY

Former Government Chemist Appears to Enjoy New Job.

OPENS NEW OFFICE

Washington, May 13.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the Indiana scientist, who recently resigned from the position of chief of the bureau of chemistry, has opened offices in the corner suite on the top floor of a new Washington skyscraper, commanding two superb views of the city. His suite consist of three rooms, handsomely furnished.

"When you look upon me you see the incarnation of 'the happy man,'" said the doctor. "I am not a spring chicken, exactly, but I feel like a 4-year-old. I walk downtown every day with a six-mile-an-hour stride, my appetite is good and I simply feel bully."

And then the doctor added, confidentially:

"It required some nerve to resign a $5,000 a year job, which I might have held indefinitely, but I haven't lost anything financially by the transaction."

Dr. Wiley is now arranging to turn his buzz-saw on the food dopesters through a column of questions and answers which he is to conduct in the magazine of which he is now the contributing editor. This column promises to furnish lots of entertainment. Tom, Dick and Harry all over the country will write to Dr. Wiley asking his opinion of Dr. Dope's Brace-'Em-Up pills, and the merits of Fakem & Skinnem's Baled Hay breakfast food, and every question of that character will receive an answer right from the shoulder.

Under Dr. Wiley's contract with the magazine he is permitted to say what he pleases about the food dopesters so long as he does not involve the magazine in libel suits. The doctor says he is going to look into the libel laws carefully.

"I will want to go pretty close to the edge in many instances," he added.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts freely at each application. For sale by all dealers.

Kansas Farmers Look Like Fashion Plates at Meeting.

Topeka, Kan., May 13.—Kansas farmers no longer are native to overalls and top boots. That the old caricature is entirely pushed into the past was demonstrated at the meeting of the Farmers' alliance here. At the evening functions evening dress suits were much in evidence. The men attending could be well represented only by a tailor's fashion plate.

"We consider ourselves business men," said one farmer. "We conduct our work along business lines and study it. Farming is a science, and labor-saving machinery has changed our lives.

"A farmer of two decades ago would watch a horse that showed good breeding. Today he eyes the automobile for signs of excellency."

CHEAP FURNITURE IS ONE THE TRAGEDIES OF KEEPING UP APPEARANCES

If it is true that economy begins at home why not practice it in the home and buy furniture that does not belie its name. The short-lived satisfaction of cheap furniture is no satisfaction at all---it is a case of mistaken identity and misplaced confidence. The temptation of a low price for furniture that looks nice will often warp the judgment of an otherwise cautious and careful buyer---it is a keynote of the argument that a slick salesman uses to induce buyers to buy. Our furniture is entirely in harmony with the demand for luxury and fashion. It is not "cheap" in quality, finish or newness, but invites inspecton.

BLIND BUT SEEKS TO BE PHYSICIAN

J. W. Bolotin Takes the State Examination for License.

FINGERS ARE EYES

Chicago, May 13.—Surgical operations may be performed by a blind man if Jacob W. Bolotin succeeds in passing the examination for a physician's license, which he is taking before the state board of medical examiners at the Coliseum. Up to the present he has met every test that has been given him, and the examiners believe he will qualify and become the first blind medical practitioner in the state of Illinois.

Mr. Bolotin, although blind from his infancy, will complete a course in medicine in the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery this month. He says he has faculties that equip him for his particular branch of practice even better than the average physician.

Thinks It Not Remarkable.

"A blind physician!" exclaimed the young man yesterday after he had finished dictating his answer to the final question of the examination paper. "Well, is there anything so remarkable about it? Because a man hasn't eyes is it a sign that he hasn't any brains? That is the trouble with the world and the blind man. All the blind man asks is fair play. Give him an equal chance without prejudice and he generally manages to hold his own with his more fortunate brother.

"They laughed at me when I asked for a chart and said I was going in the regular class for dissecting. But there wasn't a nerve, a sinew, a vein, an artery, a tissue that the eye could behold, but I could feel with the tips of my fingers. My fingers are good eyes. With them I can detect pulsations, irritations and temperatures instantly. My ears are keen to every little sound within the human body. They tell me unquestionably and promptly when the machinery of the heart or digestive organs is not running smoothly. Or if there is a catch or obstruction in the lungs my ears tell me immediately what is the cause, and then I know what to do.

Finds Work Interesting.

"It was interesting work—the study of anatomy. I am to specialize in heart and lung disorders, and am sure that I shall succeed, for already I have been practicing as an assistant in the Chicago Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium."

Dr. James A. Egan, secretary and executive officer of the state board of health, has taken a special interest in Mr. Bolotin.

"According to my recollection," said Dr. Egan, "he is the first man totally blind who has ever taken the state board examination. I have glanced at his papers, and his treatment of the different questions has certainly been masterly."

Mr. Bolotin was born in Chicago twenty-four years ago. His parents were poor and he was sent to the state school for the blind at Jacksonville. He finished his education there about eight years ago. He wanted to be a physician, but was discouraged both because of his blindness and because he had no resources.

One day a woman came to his house selling matches. He said he would sell matches. He made three cents the first day, seventy-four cents the first week and after that, he says, he never made less than $3 a day. Last year he went out on the road selling typewriters, and made nearly enough to carry him through his last year of college.

PRESERVE FOES' HEADS

SOUTH AMERICAN TRIBE THAT EMBALMS THE TROPHIES.

Method Employed Reduces the Grisly Relics to the Size of a Billiard Ball With Changing or Mutilating Features.

The little-known Indian tribes that inhabit the more distant provinces of the South American republic of Ecuador, in almost entire independence, have a strange custom of preparing the heads of their vanquished enemies in a manner which reduces them to extremely small dimensions, without changing or mutilating the features.

For many years a war of extermination has been going on between the various tribes. Ambushes and night attacks are of frequent occurrence, and the parties often march dozens of leagues to surprise their enemies.

The head of the vanquished chief is cut off and becomes the most esteemed booty of the victorious leader. It is then, in due time, desiccated and reduced by the latter by means of a process, the secret of which has so far been jealously guarded. As far as is known, the skull, jawbones and fleshy parts are entirely removed without the skin of the head and face suffering any damage, and the only trace of the operation is a small incision in the nape of the neck which is afterward sewn together again.

After removal of the bony and softer parts of the skull the skin is filled with hot stones and a vegetable concoction, the secret of which, as well as that of the process, is carefully guarded. This procedure is continued until the head is shrunk to the dimension of a good-sized billiard ball and has become as dry and tough as sole leather.

It is remarkable that during the process neither the natural luster of the hair nor its quantity is diminished, that eyebrows and lashes remain intact, and that even the grain of the skin with the fine hairs are plainly distinguishable after the preparation is completed.

The process lasts about one year, and the head during that time hangs in smoke, for which purpose a stout string is drawn through the upper part of it. The lips are sewed together in order to prevent the dead enemy from speaking and eating, and the long threads by which it is done remain attached and hanging from the mouth.

The trophy, which by the reduction has lost its ghastliness, is kept in a niche in the hut of the chief, stuck on the end of a spear. During the three years succeeding the killing, feasts, lasting three days, are held on the anniversaries of the victory, during which the shrunken head is exhibited. After three years the victor may dispose of his trophy in any way he sees fit, but this is rarely done, as the head forms a war trophy of the highest honor.

Case of Poetic Justice.

That was a case of poetic justice when a jury of women in San Francisco were called upon to pass on the fit of a man's clothes. A certain tailor in that western city sued a customer for money due for clothes. The customer pleaded that the suits did not fit and asked for a jury of women to decide the important point. The 12 good women and true, who from their own experience were no doubt eminently qualified to pass on the fit of clothes, found for the defendant. It must have afforded them infinite satisfaction to know that, after all the sarcasm with which their husbands treated their own troubles with dressmakers, their exasperating experiences should in the end be drawn upon to render a lawful judgment on clothes worn by men. All the fun poked at women and their dressmakers in San Francisco and all the jokes collateral to that engaging theme have been recalled.

Book Don'ts.

Good books are treasures, and they should be handled with the greatest of care by everyone. Here are a few rules that should be observed:

Never drop a book upon the floor.

Never turn leaves with the thumb.

Never lean or rest upon an open book.

Never turn down the corners of leaves.

Never touch a book with soiled or damp hands.

Always place a large book upon a table before opening it.

Never pull a book from the shelf by the binding at the top, but by the back.

Never close a book with a pencil, tablet or anything else that is bulky between the leaves.

Influence of Clothes.

It is said that the average man is, to a great extent, influenced by the kind of clothes which he wears, in the same way as he is affected by his environment. A well-dressed man will walk better, talk better and, they say, even do better work than the man who is carelessly dressed. Therefore, the man who is neglectful of his personal appearance, is unneat, slouchy, his clothes not pressed or carefully brushed, his shoes unpolished, his linen soiled and his hat dented and covered with dust, discards one of the most potent instruments of success. Perhaps he cannot afford to buy linen or suits made at the best tailors, but every man can afford to be clean and neat in his dress.

BLONDE TURNS TO A BRUNETTE

Indignant Wife's Lash Did Job in Her Husband's Office.

SAW THE KISSING

Kansas City, May 13.—"My husband's office girl was a blonde, but I left her a brunette," said Mrs. George C. Burrows, after she had lashed Miss Pearl Goodwin, of Rich Hill, Mo., about the bare neck and face. Mrs. Burrows is the young wife of a dentist, who has not been living with her for several weeks. She had hired a detective to watch a lodging house, and she herself has been on the lookout.

"I intended waiting until the office was full of patients, but when I stepped in and saw the blonde head over the doctor's shoulders and found them kissing I though it time to act. I did, once across her bare neck and twenty-five times—count 'em, they'll show—across her face. The doctor didn't do a thing until after it was all over. He just stepped back and seemed to wonder what was coming next. After it was over he took the whip away from me and said he was glad it had happened.

"I don't want a divorce, but of course I won't live with my husband any more," she said.

The dentist tells a different story.

Mrs. Burrows was a soubrette in Chicago before her marriage about a year ago.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. MEXICO REBELS YET IN RETREAT

Heurta, victorious in the last three days' fighting. Five bridges spanning wide arroyos were destroyed by the insurgents, causing delay to government troop trains.

No fighting was expected today as both sides were occupied with their dead and wounded from yesterday's engagement. The rebels are believed to have lost six hundred in killed and wounded.

Gen. Orozco's headquarters have been moved northward to Rellano, a retreat of eleven miles. The rebel advance guard, after the defeat of yesterday at Conejos, 55 miles north of Torreon, today was sighted behind Yermo, 14 miles north of here, on the Mexican Central railroad. Though skirmishing is expected constantly, another decisive clash probably will not occur for 24 hours. Rellano, once the battle ground of the revolution once again may be the meeting place of the two armies.

Thus far the advantage has been with the government troops, as they steadily have pushed the rebels northward toward the American border. The superior artillery fire of the government troops driving the insurgents so far back that their fire became ineffective is counted on to force the Orozco army still further northward.

clared the party should advocate stricter Asiatic exclusion on the ground that "owing to social and racial peculiarities the Asiatic races are the most difficult to mold into an effective revolutionary body, that the capitalists welcome this immigration and that its effect upon the economic and political class organizations is destructive."

That the "idea of national seclusion is fallacious and Asiatic immigration can and will be arrayed against the capitalist class," is maintained in the minority report. It denies that the workers of the Pacific coast demands stricter Asiatic exclusion. The platform to be adopted will not differ vitally from that of four years ago in its general advocacy of public owners of the means of production, it is said. Candidates for president and vice president are to be nominated on Friday and the convention will adjourn Saturday.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Strawbridge, of East Wayne street, have returned from a week's visit in New York city.

After a sojourn of seven months in Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brink and Mrs. Henry J. Miller and son, Paul, arrived home on Sunday morning. While west they were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Brink's son, Benno, who is now located in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Weil have returned from a three months' trip in the southwest, having stopped at California points, Havana and other points of Cuba and at New Orleans.

A crowd of young people of this city gave a farewell party in the way of a dance at Lake James on Saturday evening in honor of Frank Jordan, Herman Hilker and Joe Willig, who leave tonight for an extended trip through the west and Panama. The dancing was done in the pavilion at the lake. Music was furnished by the W. J. W. club, and after the dancing a supper was served at Sunset cottage. A number of married people acted as chaperons for the young folks who were Misses Jennie Wolf, Edith Hilker, Hazel Young, Millie Kraft, Alma Jordan, Della Hilker, Clara Minnich, Alma Schenkel, Edna Sternberger, Frances Schenkel and Messrs. Mart Kress, Frank Jordan, Joe Miller, Robert Vachon, Ben Hueber, Herman Hilker, Frank Neumon, Louis Stalf, Fred Hueber and Joe Willig.

The Kappa Alpha Phi society enjoyed a business meeting and supper at the home of Ray Woebbeking, on Thursday evening. A pleasant time was enjoyed. Mrs. Woebbeking was assisted in serving by Miss Claudine Smitley and Miss Marjorie Kilgore.

Miss Hilda Spiegel, who is to act as maid of honor at the Schaack-Heiskel wedding which is to take place in June was assisted by Miss Mary Shea in entertaining intimate friends of Miss Clara Heiskel, the bride-elect, at her home in Jones street, on Friday evening. The guests spent the time in making up a booklet for Miss Heiskel, supposedly a biography of her life. The "story" was illustrated by pictures of advertisements cut from magazines which were then pasted in the book and presented to Miss Heiskell. Miss Spiegel's home was prettily decorated in apple blossoms and ferns and the color scheme, pink and white, was carried out in the table decorations of flowers, ribbons and hearts and candles, hand painted place cards and tiny dolls for favors. Miss Mayme Steup will entertain on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Heiskell.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. S. Ridenour, 1117 Lafayette street. Every member is urged to be present as there is business of importance coming up.

A Home Ruler Before Gladstone.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson was a home ruler long before Mr. Gladstone. In 1881, when the Liberal government was engaged in a policy of active repression in Ireland, Lawson, in an address to his constituents at Carlisle, summarized the situation with characteristic shrewdness. "I am convinced of one thing," he said, "that, as surely as I stand here, a disaffected nation, hating the rule of the nation that governs it, is not a source of strength to that country, but a source of weakness to everyone concerned in the matter. Suppose you had a housemaid who was continually breaking the crockery, who went into hysterics once a week, and had to be put into a strait waistcoat, and three or four policemen brought in to keep her in order, would you keep her? GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., May 13.—Improved outlook for crops, especially in Kansas, brought about free offerings today in the wheat pit and made the market sag. It was stated that fields which a fortnight ago were bare, showed wheat now two inches high with a good stand. Opening prices were ¼@⅜c lower to ⅜c up, the latter for May. July started at $1.13⅛ to $1.13⅜, varying from ¼@⅜c off to a shade advance, and declined to $1.13⅛@1.13¼.

Subsequently, a rally took place in consequence of a big falling off in the United States visible supply, but the bullish effect disappeared on account of the expected opening of the Dardanelles. Closing prices were weak with July at $1.12⅜, a loss of 1⅛@1¼c net.

Although poor prospects of much planting this week gave corn a little strength at the outset, the market soon turned easy with wheat. July opened unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 77⅛c to 77⅜c, and receded to 77½c.

A further decline ensued as a result of realizing by longs. The close was weak at 76⅞c for July, a net loss of ⅞c.

In the oats trade, no demand of consequence developed until prices underwent a material setback. July started the same as Saturday night to ¼c up, at 53⅞c to 54c, and slid down to 53⅜c.

Covering by shorts rallied provisions. Commission houses were fair buyers. Initial transactions ranged from 7½c lower to 7½c advance, with September delivery $19.25 for pork, $10.55 to $10.87½ for lard and $10.42½ for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, May 13.—Buying of Lehigh Valley shares was again the prominent feature at the opening of today's stock market. The stock advanced 1½ points at the outset and soon increased its gain to 2. Reading also advanced a full point in the early transactions, with a similar gain for Canadian Pacific. Other railway shares and some industrials participated in the advance, which was not general, however. United States Steel and some of the trunk lines displaying slight heaviness.

The market closed heavy, the rise in Union Pacific failed to hold and was followed by selling of Reading, United States Steel, Lehigh Valley and other standard shares.

ON THE FUNNY SIDE

Wisdom Born of Experience.

"Ah, Jack, old fellow! Haven't seen you since your wedding two year ago. How goes matrimony?"

"Very well, thanks; but, Jove, it's expensive comfort. The dressmakers alone! If I had only known——"

"You would have remained single, eh?"

"No, no—but I would have married the dressmaker."—Judge.

The Peace Offering.

Husband—Here, my dear, is a beautiful bracelet to pay for my staying out late last night. And I promise you it shall never happen again.

Wife—Make no promises, darling. I think I might forgive you again—under like circumstances.—Fligende Blatter.

Not Much Relieved.

"I suppose you felt when you got back from Reno as if a great weight had been lifted from your mind?"

"Oh, no, I really didn't notice much of a difference. You see he hadn't made any effort at all to get possession of the children."

WHIPPING POST FOR DESERTERS

Women Also Advocate Prison for Men Who Leave Homes.

WORK FOR NEW LAW

Denver, May 13.—Judge Harry C. Riddle's decision that the woman-inspired law of 1911, fixing one year in the state prison as punishment for men who desert their wives, is unconstitutional, has aroused the feminine voters of Colorado to an understanding of their responsibility.

Soon, the women voters of Colorado declare, they are going to pass, or cause to be passed, a law providing the whipping post and state prison for wife deserters, with the added provision that while they are imprisoned the money they earn will be turned over to their wives.

While the law just removed from the statute books was not exactly to the liking of the women, it was the best they could obtain from the man-dominated legislature. In lieu of a requirement that the convict's earnings be given to the wife and children, there was added a provision that he could escape the penitentiary by giving a $5,000 bond that he would support his wife and children. This alternative was what caused Judge Riddle to declare the law unconstitutional.

Denver women have formed themselves into a jury to review the present status of wife deserters, and here are the verdicts three of the leaders return:

Mrs. John F. Shafroth, wife of the governor: "I like the idea of the whipping post for a man who will leave his wife and poor little children! There is no meaner thing on the face of the earth, and I have always thought that there was no punishment adequate to the offense. A public whipping post, it seems to me, would be as near an approach as anything to what is needed to put such men back in line and make them willing to do their duty.

"Am I, like many women, too chicken-hearted to wish to see a man sent to the penitentiary, no matter what he might do? Certainly not. They say that many of the men who are in prison are the victims of environment—that they never really had a chance. Perhaps not, but that doesn't prevent us from seeing that they are dangerous and harmful to society and should be placed where they can work no harm to others. They ought to be sent to the penitentiary.

"I do think, though, that the matter should be so arranged that for a man's labors while imprisoned some wages would be paid, to be turned over to his family, who in most cases need the money. Just simply putting a man in prison because he doesn't support his wife and children does no good and cannot possibly alter their unfortunate situation.

"It is too bad that the law has been declared invalid. We have been discussing it and hope that the thing will be speedily adjusted."

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, woman candidate for United States senator, and national club leader: "There has never been any punishment severe enough meted out to the man who runs away from his family. I am sorry that the present law has been declared unconstitutional. It seems to me to be a very good one. But if a man could be brought back when he deserts, put to work—forced to work—preferably in a workhouse, and his earnings turned over to those dependent on him, I think that the evil could be checked and possibly controlled. I advocate the workhouse system."

Mrs. Anna V. Lafferty, member of the last legislature: "It's a shame that the law has been declared invalid. But it wasn't framed to my ideas at the time it was passed. We women wanted to incorporate a clause—tried our best to get in—providing that during a man's imprisonment something should be paid for his labors to his family. But they wouldn't have it that way. I'll tell you, the law has been a joke, anyhow. They bring men back from other states, try them—and convict them? Certainly not. There isn't a judge that has or would—no man judge!

"The time has come when women must sit on the juries, especially in this sort of cases. Justice can't be done until they do. There is no punishment severe enough for the wife deserter, and if women could have a chance to try him—well, we'll see!"

No Cascaret User Ever Has Headache

A 10-cent Box Will Keep Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels Clean, Pure and Fresh for Months.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to a sluggish liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means inside cleanliness and a clear head for months. Ask any of the millions of Cascaret users if they ever have headache. adv

Nose Feeding in English Prisons for "Hunger Strike" Suffragettes.

English women arrested for suffragette disturbances are determined to go to extremes to win their ends. A new "hunger strike" was declared by suffragist prisoners, not because they would be removed to more comfortable quarters in the prison hospital, but to obtain the lenient treatment which is usually accorded "political" prisoners, instead of being treated as ordinary disturbers of the peace, put in prison garb and forced to work. The women are fed liquid food through the nostrils, to prevent them starving themselves. Note the arrows on the woman's dress, the mark of prison clothing in England.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

S. S. S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes right down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound to heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the means of keeping the ulcer open are no longer absorbed from the blood. External applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a cure because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they can only allay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on symptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the blood is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around the place, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the sore a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the surrounding healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure blood is responsible for Sores and Ulcers, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a cure. S. S. S. has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, healthy blood, and thus makes the cure permanent and lasting. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

Those who plan to do papering this spring are fortunate, for the reason that never before have the designs of wall paper been so artistic or varied.

Our stock is made up of the very latest designs of the leading manufacturers. It includes scores of kinds and qualities of papers not to be seen elsewhere in this locality, all of extreme novelty and beauty.

We are able to advise also as to the best ways of planning wall decorations so as to secure the most beautiful effects at the most reasonable cost.
